Fear St. Johns Fire Toll To Reach 110

AUTHORITIES BELIEVE MORE DEAD IN ASHES

Report Most of Women Saved By Gallantry During Panic at Dance.

100 BODIES ARE FOUND

600 Merrymakers at Service Men's Hostel as Flames Sweep Structure.

(By United Press)

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland —One hundred charred and trampled bodies gave mute testimony today to the ferocity of the fire and panic that swept the St. Johns hostel for service men of the Knights of Columbus Saturday night.

Authorities feared that the bones and ashes of as many as 10 bodies may be mingled in the ashes of the two story wooden building which burned to its foundations, but 100 was the official death toll until such time as checks of missing military and naval personnel and civilians establishes a higher one.

Though some 600 persons were in the hostel, of whom a sizable proportion were women, there were only seven bodies of women in the morgues to which the vistims were taken. Authorities ascribed this to gallantry, feeling that despite the hysterical panic which overwhelmed the Saturday night merrymakers almost as quickly as did the fire, the men saved the lives of their women, some at the cost of their own.

In hospitals today were 102 men and women, many of them so severely burned they were expected to die.

Of the dead, the bodies of 54 of the 93 men and four of the seven women had been identified. Some 20 of the dead were said to be United States military personnel and a large per centage of the remainder were Canadian servicemen. No exact figures in this regard were made public and no casualty list will be published until the "next of kin" of all victims have been notified.

The tragedy was a startling parallel to that which took 488

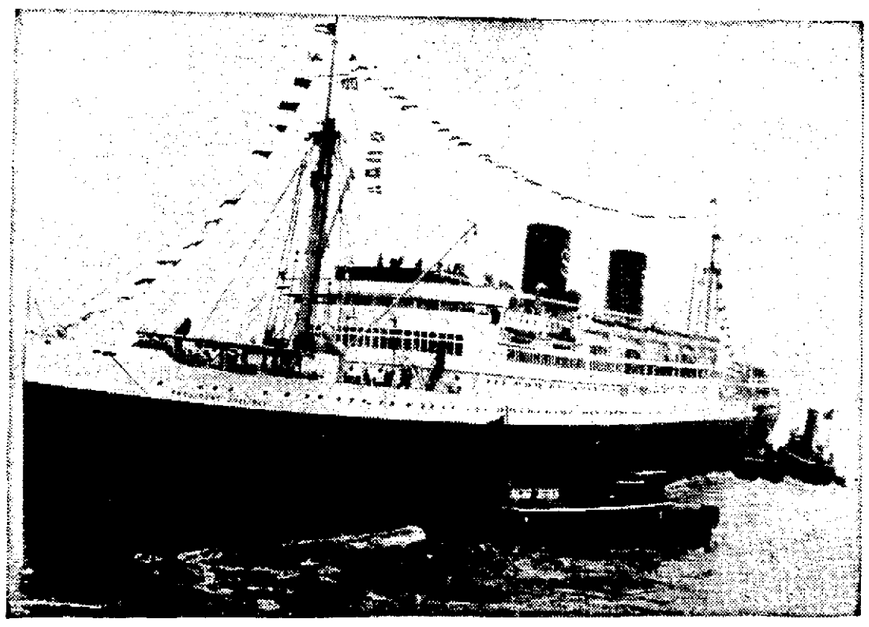
San Francisco Comes Home, Coolidge Goes Down In South Pacific



Playing outstanding roles in the drama of the war at sea have been the U. S. cruiser San Francisco, shown at left as she steamed under Golden Gate bridge after returning from the Solomons area where she sank a Jap battleship, cruiser and destroyer, and the S. S. President Coolidge, former luxury liner shown at right, which went down in the south Pacific after striking a mine. Of the 4,000 U. S. troops aboard the Coolidge, all but four were saved.

Mercury To Climb Tonight After Nose-Dive To 6 Above

Relief from the week-end's cold wave is forecast for tonight after mercury had skidded to an official low of six degrees above zero last night. Light snow is forecast for the north central Ohio area late today.

Sunday's bright sun did not attract many Mansfielders out-of-doors when sub-freezing temperatures prevailed throughout the day. The high for Sunday was 20 and the 48-hour week-end average was 16.5 degrees, as compared with a 17-year average of 30.8 degrees. Mansfield's official weather observer recorded 1.5 inches of snow for the week-end.

In Columbus last night the mercury hit the zero mark while Dayton and Cincinnati reported two above. Other Ohio city temperatures were Cleveland 11, Akron 6, Toledo 7.

With the state highway department reporting roads throughout the state as "generally icy" George Shook," a township trustee in Pickaway county was killed when his auto skidded off the highway near Circleville. Highway patrolmen reported a number of skidding mishaps, especially in the Columbus area where a three-inch snowfall was recorded Saturday night.

In Mansfield the light snow of Saturday did not greatly impair skating on city park lakes and added to good sledding conditions on the hills.

Ohio's weather forecast is "continued cold today. Occasional light snow in north portion this afternoon. Warmer tonight."

'WITHIN 10 DAYS'

Bricker Preparing to Appoint New Municipal Judge.

Naming of a new municipal judge for Mansfield will be announced within the next 10 days, Governor John W. Bricker told the Associated Press in Columbus today.

Substitute Judge Herbert H. Schettler and Attorney Lydon Beam are the leading candidates for the appointment, Schettler bearing the endorsement of the Richland county Republican executive committee.

Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, who leaves the municipal bench Jan. 31 to assume his duties as common pleas judge Feb. 9, last week requested Bricker to make an early appointment in order that his successor can familiarize himself with the court routine.

According to the Associated Press, Bricker gave no hint as to who would get the appointment.

FAVOR CONTROL

Cotton-Growers Reported Voting For Federal Regulation.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Cotton-growers in 19 states appeared today to have approved federal control over the production and marketing of cotton for the sixth successive year.

Incomplete but fairly conclusive returns from an agriculture department referendum held Saturday showed 642,234 farmers favoring federal control and 103,186 against, with a majority of the returns tabulated.

USE TRAILERS

Kentuckians At O. S. U. Live Under Stadium Arches.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— A thriving community of 35 trailer-homes blossomed beneath the protecting arches of Ohio State university's massive concrete stadium over the week-end as another consignment of Kentucky hill farmers arrived to learn the ways of modern farming to help solve the nation's farm labor shortage.

Forty-five men, the second group in a government-sponsored experiment, took up residence in the trailers and started to school today under a new streamlined program designed to fit them for work on mechanized Ohio farms within a week.

IN NEW DELHI

Stilwell Makes Trip From Chungking To India.

NEW YORK —(INS)— The all-India radio at New Delhi said today that Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander-in-chief of U. S. forces in China, Burma and India has arrived in New Delhi from Chungking. The broadcast was heard by CBS.

PRICES HIGHER

16 Items of Food Cost More Under New OPA Ruling.

WASHINGTON—(INS)— Sixteen more items on the food list were selling at higher prices under OPA permission today as the cost of food showed a 40 per cent rise above 1939.

The OPA authorized retail price increases on the additional items to compensate increases previously granted to wholesalers, "to reflect only actual higher costs in raw material and labor," and to cover increased costs of new type containers replacing war-scarce tin cans.

The items are canned apples, applesauce, apple juice, vinegar-cured herring, canned boned chicken and turkey, maple sugar, blended maple syrup, fountain fruits, egg noodles, tamales, tortillas, potato chips, raisin filled or topped biscuits and crackers, fig bars, peanut candy and extracted honey.

KING 47 TODAY

Observance of George VI's Birthday Deferred Until June.

LONDON—(AP)—Six months before the official celebration, King George VI observed his 47th birthday today.

He planned to spend the day quietly with members of his family. A private luncheon was arranged with the Duchess of Kent and two of her children as guests of the royal family.

The king observes his birthday officially in June because the season is more favorable for traditional ceremonies.

TEACHER HURT IN CAR CRASH

She's One of Three Seriously Injured Over Week-End In County Mishaps.

A Mansfield school teacher and her companion were seriously injured early today in the area's only serious week-end traffic accident, while a Lexington boy, 10, was hurt when he ran in the path of a car near his home.

All three are in Mansfield General hospital.

The teacher, Miss Ruth Dukes and Miss Frances Hoar, both of Mt. Gilead, were injured on their way to Mansfield this morning when the car Miss Dukes was driving hit the rear of a truck nine miles southwest of the city on Route 42.

Miss Dukes told state highway patrolmen that she did not see the truck ahead of her on a down grade in the early morning darkness.

Miss Dukes and Miss Hoar were brought to General hospital in an ambulance. There it was reported that Miss Dukes, who teaches at Bowman street school, had suffered possible fractured ribs and lacerations.

Miss Hoar was reported to be suffering from a cerebral concussion. A third passenger in Miss Duke's car, Miss Margaret Lewis of Shauck, was treated for bruises in Lexington.

The driver of the truck, Harry

BAN'S STILL ON, CHIEF DECLARES

Bell Issues Warning After Report Of Another 'Fix.'

Reports of "fixing" for resumption of numbers sales and tip sheets were rife today but Police Chief Thomas M. Bell said this morning that his order of Nov. 28 suppressing these forms of gambling in Mansfield would stick.

Chief Bell indicated he had not heard that cash-paying money board or books were back on the market or that the "go" had been given to numbers sellers. However, numbers sellers were reported in evidence today.

They had suspended operations for a time after the chief had ordered money boards out.

JESUIT GENERAL DIES

BERN, Switzerland —(AP)— Father Count Ledochowski, general of the Jesuit order since 1915, died last night in Vatican City. He was 76. Reports from Rome said the election of his successor must await the end of the war.

Arnold Grimly Warns Tokyo To Expect Heavy Air Blows

(By Associated Press)

RANDOLPH FIELD, Tex.—Tokyo today had the grim promise of the chief of America's pilots that United States bombers would return "again and again" to strike at the heart of Nippon's island empire along with the disquieting news that Uncle Sam has some secret weapons of the air "that will deal paralyzing blows to our enemies."

Speaking to graduating classes of four army flying schools—Randolph, Kelly, Brooks and Hondo fields—Lt. General Henry H. Arnold said Sunday that "for once" Tokyo was right in warning the Japanese people that more American bomber raids could be expected before the war is over.

"Yes, we are coming and we hope to make it soon, and when we do come it will be in large numbers — and we won't stop with one visit. We will return again and again," he said.

Stating that "we have a secret weapon or two up our aerial sleeves," Arnold lent emphasis to the warning by disclosing that parachute bombs, which explode with deadly effectiveness just above the ground, were first developed and used by the U. S. army air forces.

He did not divulge what type of weapons they might be, but proceeded to predict that "entirely new 'battle-wagons' are on the way," and reminded the graduating airmen that he had already said the present day big bombers "were perhaps the last of the 'small' bombers."

Detailing the rapid development of modern aerial fighting equipment, Arnold said that the United States production, "just approaching" its peak, alone is more than the combined output of Germany and Japan who "have passed their peak."

Operating in eight combat zones, army fliers to date have sunk 51 enemy ships, scored 21 believed sunk and hit and damaged 159 of all types, he said. From Feb. 1 to Dec. 5, he added, they "have definitely destroyed 928 enemy planes and probably destroyed 276 in aerial combat," with a loss of 130 planes, plus 104 missing.

CHECK RATIONS

OPA To Investigate Issuing of Supplemental Gasoline.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The Ohio Office of Price Administration soon will begin checking to determine whether holders of supplemental gasoline ration books are entitled to them, H. T. Beckmann, state OPA director, announced today.

Beckman said the regional OPA office estimated on the basis of a preliminary survey that errors in issuing supplementary books ran as high as 4 per cent because some boards interpreted regulations too loosely, while others were too strict.

The director also urged motorists holding "C" ration books, to display the lower portion of their windshield stickers showing the reason for the preferred mileage allotment. Those who have torn off the bottom portion of the sticker listing the preferred user's category should obtain complete ones from their boards, he said.

PURSE SNATCHED

Policewoman's Victim of Latest Cleveland Thievery.

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Cleveland's current wave of purse snatchings today numbered a policewoman among its victims.

A thief grabbed a pocketbook from Policewoman Rose Laskowski yesterday as she was about to get out of her car in front of the policewomen's bureau. She accidentally leaned against the car horn, attracting the attention of Patrolman Charles Popelka. The patrolman started a chase on foot, fired one shot which he believed might have injured the thief but failed to overtake him.

200 JAPS DIE

Killed When American Bombs Hit Yochow Barracks.

CHUNGKING—(U.P.)—Two hundred Japanese troops were killed and hundreds of others were wounded when American bombers attacked enemy barracks at Yochow, in North Hunan province, Nov. 25, the Chinese Central News agency reported today.

Two Boys Suffer Broken Bones In Coasting Mishaps

A Mansfield youth, Charles C. Wilson, jr., 7, and a 9-year-old Loudonville boy were injured in coasting accidents yesterday.

The Wilson boy was admitted to General hospital after receiving a compound fracture of the right leg when his sled hit an obstruction on the Westbrook Country club toboggan run. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wilson, 604 Highland avenue.

George Leber, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Leber, of West Main street, Loudonville, fractured both wrists when his sled hit a fence while he was coasting on a hill back of his home. His injuries were treated by a physician there.

RATES SLASHED

Auto Collision Insurance Premiums Reduced 10 To 20 Per Cent.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Ration harried motorists were consoled somewhat today following the announcement by the National Automobile Underwriters association of a cut in automobile collision insurance premiums.

The reduction, retroactive to Dec. 1, cuts premiums 20 per cent for passenger cars using A ration books and 10 per cent for those using B books.

It will be extended to states where approval of supervising authorities is required.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— The joint army-navy production award for outstanding performance of war work today was awarded to the St. Marys Mfg. Co., St. Marys, O.

4,000 Landlords Fail To Register, With Deadline Near

Nearly 4,000 landlords in Richland, Ashland, and Crawford counties must register with the Mansfield district rent office by 8:30 p. m. Tuesday or be declared violators of the federal rent control law, Morton Hayman, acting area rent director, said today.

With approximately 12,000 property owners already registered, Hayman estimated that between 3,000 and 4,000 have not signed up.

The Mansfield office on Park avenue west will remain open three hours longer than usual Tuesday night to handle registrations. The office will open at 8:45 a. m.

Landlords and persons who rent and sub-lease are required to register. Registration places have been set up in Ashland and Crawford counties, but the registrations for the counties will be filed here.

George H. Blecker, area rent attorney, is also enforcement officer and will begin a check-up on property owners after tomorrow's deadline. Wilful violators are subject to a $5,000 fine and a maximum of one year in federal prison.

Allies Batter Tunisia With New Air Power

Smash Foe's Supply Lines All The Way To Sicily As Montgomery Routs Africa Corps From Aghelia Under Hail Of Bombs.

BULLETIN

CAIRO—(U.P.)—The British Eighth army, operating under strong air protection that included American bombers and fighters, pursued the German Afrika Korps westward into Tripolitania today.

(By Associated Press)

Field Marshal Rommel's carefully prepared El Agheila defense line has collapsed under a single assault by Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth army, which pushed on to the west today toward Tripoli and a showdown.

The onslaught which once more drove Rommel, the desert fox, out of his burrow was timed to coincide with smashing aerial assaults on the enemy's Tunisian strongholds in thundering evidence of the rising air might of the Allies.

The brief announcement that the Eighth army again was on the march came early today in a brief communique from Cairo which said:

"Rommel has been driven from his strong positions at El Agheila and is in retreat to the west."

The cost, a later communique declared, was slight; and the pursuit relentless. It added:

"Allied fighter-bombers, operating on an unprecedented scale, were employed to harass the enemy.

"Axis air activity was totally ineffective in preventing these operations."

The value of the African front, and of the United Nations' strategy of coordinated attack, made itself felt further, too, on the icy battlefields of Russia.

The Russians announced over the week-end that the Germans had lost more than 169,000 killed and 74,500 captured since the start of the Red army's offensives on the Moscow and Stalingrad fronts, added to 100,000 which the Germans lost in their earlier siege of Stalingrad.

Russian gains continued steady, slow; and despite the massing of large forces the Germans still were unable to get a sustained counterattack under way, or to restore lost positions.

In sweeping west of El Agheila, General Montgomery's troops passed the highwater mark of Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's 1941 drive and thus were deeper into Libya than British forces ever before had penetrated.

The onsurge steadily narrowed the North African coastal strip where the Germans and Italians are held in the jaws of an Allied nutcracker.

Observers at Cairo said the next defensible position where Rommel might attempt a stand is at Misurata, 300 miles west of El Agheila and only 100 miles short of Tripoli, main North African base of the THIRD TIME: Japs Lose More Ships In Stab At Guadalcanal

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—The Japanese have tried to come back to Guadalcanal three times this month—and three times they have been smashed by American forces.

The latest attempt cost the Japanese a destroyer sunk, a second probably sunk and six others damaged.

But it was not expected to deter the enemy from trying again to reinforce and supply isolated troops on the northwest corner of Guadalcanal island. American sea and air forces know that the Japanese will return and are preparing for them.

The last naval communique covered action in the battle of the Solomons for last Friday and Saturday (Solomons time). Nearly as important as the smashing of the Japanese sea force Friday night and early Saturday morning were two American air raids, on Friday and Saturday, on the enemy's new central air base at Munda on New Georgia island, only 150 miles northwest of Guadalcanal.

Direct hits with four 1,000-pound bombs chewed up a new landing strip on Saturday. The day before Flying Fortresses dropped 155 100-pound bombs on the airfield.

The latest Japanese sea force headed for Guadalcanal was sighted and attack by Douglas "Dauntless" divebombers, supported by Gruman "Airacobra" fighters, at 6 p. m., Friday, apparently north of Cape Esperance. The enemy force consisted of 11 destroyers, and bomb hits were scored on five of them during this first attack.

Six hours later, at 12:35 a. m., Saturday, an American surface force moved in and attacked the

NEW ORDER: Hitler Selects Mussert As Fuehrer Of Dutch

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—Adolf Hitler has designated Anton Mussert, an obscure Dutch Nazi politician "fuehrer" of the Netherlands people in his "new European order" and Axis radios followed up the announcement with reports that powerless France under Marshal Henri Petain is moving closer to cooperation with Germany. Petain, these German reports said, has agreed to Hitler's proposal to raise a new French army "capable of insuring the safety of France and her colonial empire." At the same time, Fighting French sources here said, Hitler has demanded 400,000 French workers for labor in Germany.

The elevation of the Dutch Quisling Mussert was announced by Arthur Seysz-Inquart, German commissioner for the Netherlands who obviously will continue to rule the country.

Musserl, whose Dutch Nazi party failed to make any spectacular headway even after the Germans occupied the country, will try to convert the extremely independent and outspoken Dutch people to the Nazi way of life, it is expected.

Seysz-Inquart also announced that Mussert's participation in the government would bring forth a new series of decrees. Observers said this probably means new oppressive measures against the Jews in Holland, a course which Mussert has advocated.

The Russian news agency Tass reported from Stockholm that Hitler had demanded the mobilization of 250,000 Dutchmen for the German army.

Petain's agreement to the raising of a new French army was contained in a letter written to

ENGAGEMENT REVEALED AT TEA GIVEN SUNDAY

Announcement Made of Coming Nuptials of Miss Katharine Hartman and Lt. Henry R. Macy; Wedding to Be In January.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made at a lovely tea Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lewis F. Hartman, 487 Edgewood road, of the engagement and approaching marriage of her sister-in-law, Miss Katharine Hartman, to Lieut. Henry R. Macy, son of Mrs. L. Pugh Macy of Charlottesville, Va., and T. Ridgway Macy of Washington, D. C. Miss Hartman is the daughter of Rudolph W. Hartman, 561 Park avenue west.

Names of the couple were outlined in the snow in green and were visible through the windows that formed a background for the tea table. Presiding at the table were three guests of the bride-elect; Mrs. E. R. Hartman, Mrs. F. S. Kelly and Mrs. F. O. Hartman. The color scheme of green and white was effectively carried out with an arrangement of Christmas greenery and white chrysanthemums which encircled the base of 12 lighted candles.

The bride-to-be was graduated from Lasell Junior college at Auburndale, Mass., and is proprietor of The Book Shop. She is well known in Mansfield social circles. Her fiance is a graduate of Harvard university and the University of Virginia law school. He is now a second lieutenant in the 365th Engineering Regiment, stationed at Camp Campbell, Ky. The wedding will be an event of late January.

Husbands Are Party Guests

The Christmas party of the Linnaeus Garden club was held at the home of Mrs. Clyde K. Smaltz, West Fourth street, Friday evening. Husbands of the members were guests. Mrs. Richard Fensch, also a guest, showed moving pictures of many gardens and several films of the Rocky mountains.

Mrs. Henry Paulsen exhibited lovely Christmas gift wrappings. Supper was served buffet style from a table centered with an attractive Christmas arrangement. Group singing of Christmas carols was enjoyed after the supper.

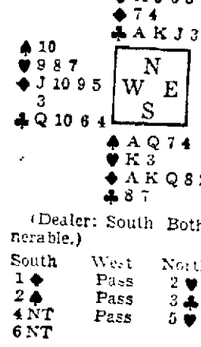
"The Authority on Authorities"

THE "CANNIBAL SQUEEZE"

SOME PLAYERS call it the "suicide squeeze" because by it the leader to the crucial trick wrecks his own side. Others use the name given in the headline, which is probably more accurately descriptive, since by it one partner devours the other. It consists of leading a suit on which your partner has to kill his own hand by choosing among two or more different discards, either or any of which is disastrous.



(Dealer: South Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♥	Pass
6 NT

South won the opening club 4 with the A, then tried two rounds of diamonds to learn that bad news, plus two rounds of spades to get some more of the same. Finally he got some luck when the club J was finessed successfully. Seeing a chance for a cannibal squeeze, he cashed the club K and then put West in with the club 3 to the Q.

He had built soundly, and had given West a chance to make a fatal mistake, if he only would. He knew West had the club and diamond length, hence that East, besides guarding the spades, was surely also guarding hearts. His own discarding had been done so as to retain for his last five cards in dummy the spade 6 and the heart A-J-6-5, and in his own hand the spade Q-7, heart K-3 and diamond Q. East was holding the spade J-9 and the heart Q-10-4.

After West won that eighth trick with his club Q, he returned a diamond, which put the squeeze on East. After the dummy played a heart, East had to break his protection against the second spade in South's hand or the third heart in the dummy. Which ever he chose would give the declarer the rest of the tricks.

If West had returned a heart instead of a diamond, South could have won with the K and then could have squeezed East himself with a lead of the diamond Q. But as it was, East was victimized by his own partner.

If North bids 1-Club, South 1-Spade, North 2-Spades and South 4-Spades, why should West be fearful about leading a diamond against the contract?

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"I know you can," Olina replied "but I'd rather make full confession. I'm not going to dwell on this part of my story, which I don't particularly like to recall, but—you remember how beautiful Mary was that summer?"

"Yes, I remember," I said, and did not interrupt with the assurance that she, too, was exquisitely beautiful.

"And you probably remember also how Georges as you say over me, fell for her like a ton of bricks?"

"Yes," I said smiling "I recall Georges' romantic admiration for Mary."

"I am afraid it went deeper than that," Olina said with a note of sadness, "and nothing ever bothered my spirit more than the conviction that Georges cared for Mary and not for me. Can I now understand what I misunderstood when that realization came to me?"

Madge's Doubts

A wave of compunction and doubt swept over me. Ought I to listen further to the torturing revelation of the dark currents in this girl's soul? I knew her inordinate pride and reticence due to years of repression. Now she was highly wrought up, but later might she not bitterly regret having talked to me with such lack of reserve?

"Are you sure you want to tell me all this, Olina?" I asked, parrying her question.

"No, I don't want to," she said, "but I must. Something inside me is driving me to get it out into the open, then I never need speak of it again.

"I know you are thinking, 'Why doesn't she tell all this to her mother?'"

"Oh, no, Olina!" I protested lamely and falsely, for that thought had come to me, but she went on as if I had not spoken.

Can't Tell Mother.

"I cannot tell Mama now," she said, "I kept all this from her at the time, and if I should bring it all out now she would be terribly shocked and grieved because I did not give her my confidence when I returned to Transylvania.

"Then, too, since you believe Georges is now in this country and there is a chance that I may see him, I cannot let Mama know how I feel about him. She would be overjoyed, because she is very fond of Georges, and would watch our every move, hoping we might be reconciled, despite the bitter quarrel that ended our betrothal after we went back home.

"No, Aunt Madge, I cannot tell this to Mama. Of all the world, I can tell it only to you. You are so tender and understanding, please be my mother confessor."

I knew I must not deny her further, and spoke quickly:

"Of course, dear, tell me all that is troubling you," I said, and her sigh of relief seemed to come from her shoe soles.

"I'm not going into detail," she said, "but I want you to know that I never was in love with Noel. I was so angry at Mary and so humiliated by Georges' devotion to her that I did everything I could to trap Noel into an engagement of marriage. Those are ugly words, but true. It wasn't hard to do because Noel was also suffering tortures in his jealousy of Georges.

"That was a hectic time until Mary and Noel came to their senses and Georges pretended to come to his and to accept the situation gamely. He even pretended to love me," she added bitterly, "and I went back to Transylvania believing that I had found my happiness at last.

"But, Aunt Madge, when I inadvertently found Mary's miniature in his watch fob, I quietly went mad. I think for it was then I resolved to be revenged on Mary, if it took the rest of my life to do it."

Junior Auxiliary Has Christmas Party Saturday

Another of the Christmas season's parties was given for the Junior auxiliary to the American Legion in the Legion home, Park avenue west, Saturday afternoon.

The reception room was beautifully decorated with greens, cones and tall red candles. The mantel of the fireplace before which the gifts were exchanged, was gayly decorated with Christmas appointments. The program arranged by Miss Dora McLeod, consisted of carols sung by the group, solos, appropriate poems, and Bible readings. Miss Wilma Durant, Junior Auxiliary president, welcomed the guests and extended greetings to members.

A four course dinner followed the program. Guests were seated at a long table decorated with red candles in crystal holders, round a miniature Christmas tree. Smaller trees extended the length of the table and were snow tipped to represent a snow scene.

Miss Margry Hagnauer, retiring Junior president, was presented with a gift from the organization. A resolution of appreciation in recognition of service was extended to Mrs. Roebrt Jones, Mrs. Emma Young, Mrs. Earl Lemley, Mrs. Robert Young, and Miss McLeod. Mrs. Basil Knapp is the new chairman of Junior activities.

Soldiers' Wives Ask U. S. for Hospitalization

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Perhaps I rushed in with a greater courage than the angels a few weeks ago when I told Army wives, who expecting a visit from the stork, that their Uncle Sam would see to things through Army Emergency Relief.

However, I qualified this statement by saying they would be taken into government hospitals for the period of confinement, only if there was room. It seems, however, that in certain sections of the country hospitals are more crowded by sick and wounded soldiers than in other areas, and that at the present time, West Coast hospitals are taxed to capacity with service men.

Soldiers' wives in California have written to tell me they have been unable to obtain hospitalization, that their husbands are in far-off corners of the earth and the approaching blessed event has them considerably worried.

Hospitalization for army wives goes through the Service Command, which in some areas stretches over several states. In California, for instance, the officer in charge of such hospitalization is Major General Kenyon Joyce, commanding general of the Ninth Service Command, Fort Douglass, Utah. Army wives in California who find that local hospitals are too crowded to take care of them should write to General Joyce. He may be able to help them.

A private's salary barely stretches over the simplest living, especially when a baby is expected. Doctors' bills and hospital costs not to mention incidentals for the baby, do not figure in monthly budget.

In 24 states a Children's Bureau program has been started to provide such aid, but unless $1,500,000 is made available through an amendment to Social Security Act, it is doomed to failure.

We need babies for peace as well as war. We need them for a better and saner world, and here's wishing the best of luck to those behind the amendment to the Social Security Act, which would give service men's wives free hospitalization.

Eleanor Ropp Becomes Bride Of Sgt. Edward Meder Sunday

Before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums, Father Rodman of the Gesu church of Cleveland, performed the single ring ceremony, Sunday at 2.30 p. m., which united in marriage Miss Eleanor E. Ropp of this city and Sgt. Edward G. Meder, of University Heights, Cleveland, former resident of Mansfield.

The bride was attired in a street length frock of ice blue crepe, matching jacket with lace lapels and cuffs studded with seed pearls. Her hat was of the same shade of blue with a small veil. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. Her corsage of yellow rose buds, was tied with ice blue ribbon.

Mrs. Robert Creamer, close friend of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a two piece blue crepe dress trimmed in eyelet lace. Her hat of a rose shade, was of the same pattern as the bride's. The veil was worn under her chin. Pink rose buds tied with matching ribbon comprised her corsage. Clarence M. Meder, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Miss Ropp's mother wore a purple crepe dress with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mother of the bride-groom wore an aqua crepe dress, black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

After the ceremony a three course dinner for 26 guests was served at Damon's, in Shaker Heights. The centerpiece was a large wedding cake.

The bride and groom left for a short wedding trip, the whereabouts of which were not disclosed.

The new Mrs. Meder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ropp, 99 Lind avenue. She is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school, and a member of Beta Kappa Tau. At present she is employed at Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company. She will continue living with her parents.

Mr. Meder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael S. Meder, 2388 Lakemeul Road, University Heights. A graduate of Mansfield Senior High school, he also attended Ashland college. He is now stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ropp, Dale Ropp, jr., Eugene Ropp, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wilkerson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Creamer.

Harold Braden Honored With Farewell Party

Twenty relatives were present Saturday evening for a farewell party honoring Harold C. Braden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Braden of Weller township, who left today for service in the Army Air Corps.

The party was held at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fox, 92 Park avenue east. The evening was spent socially and luncheon was served buffet style. Many useful gifts were presented to the guest of honor.

Those present at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hockensmith and son, Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Robinson and daughter, Betty Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Tulley Fox and son, Charles, Mrs. Curtis E. Tooker, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Greving and daughter, Shirley, Junior Ellison, Mrs. Earl Fox and sons, Robert and Richard, and the immediate family.

DOUBLE QUARTET SINGS FOR MUSIC STUDY CLUB

Enjoyable Program Presented Sunday Afternoon In St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church; Christmas Tea to Be Dec. 27.

AT 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, members of the Mansfield Music Study club asembled in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church for an enjoyable program presented by a double quartet. The eight vocalists were Mrs. W. J. Hazeltine and Mrs. Walker, sopranos; Mrs. C. O. Anglin and Mrs. Herman Gilbert, altos; Leo Hans and Emerson Bletz, tenors; Rev. Herman Gilbert and John Grabler, basses.

Numbers arranged by Harvey Gaul, an "Albanian Ox Carol" and "A Balkan Christmas," opened the program. Three Polish songs, "Carol of Doves," and two "Christmas Carillons of Poland," had vigor and spirit which seemed to speak of a people who must rise from slavery to return to their place among free countries."

Concluding number for the afternoon was the cantata, "When the Christ Child Came," by Joseph W. Clokey, dean of the School of Fine Arts at Miami university. A graduate of Miami and the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Mr. Clokey is well known nationally as a composer. The double quartet gave an excellent presentation of the cantata, the music for which is difficult and modern. The poem was read by Mrs. Gladys Lane. Conductor was Miss Florence MacDonald, and accompanist was Mrs. Fred Cahall.

After the musicale, Mrs. George W. Hall gave a report of the conference which was held at Loudonville by the Ohio Federation of Music. The club, as a whole, was commended for purchases of war bonds and announcement was made of Mr. Grabler's work as collector of records and record players for army camps.

The club will have its annual Christmas tea for members and guests in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel on Dec. 27. The next business meeting, scheduled for Jan. 3, has been postponed until Jan. 10.

Banquet Club Gives Party

The Banquet club held its Christmas party recently at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Campbell, 565 Garfield place. A gift exchange was held, and each member received a gift from her secret pal.

Prizes were won in bunco by Mrs. Margaret Thatcher, Mrs. Victoria McMahon and Mrs. Dorothy McMillen. Luncheon was served at one long table with Christmas appointments. The next meeting will be Jan 7 at the home of Mrs. Mabel Trace, Beethoven street. It will be in the form of a bum's party.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, December 15

THE ASTRAL indications are for a very active and strenuous day in both public and private affairs. Initiative, and enterprise may experience dramatic and surprising turns, coming probably from strange or peculiar sources, with elders and superiors intervening. There may be danger from intrigue and dubious strategies, especially imperiling contracts, writings or other important papers. A similar curious condition may develop in romantic or emotional associations, which it may be wise to shrewdly circumvent.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a lively and eventful year, with many strange or curious experiences or adventures. In difficult or intriguing situations it would be advisable to seek the wise council of elderly relatives or even strangers, who may have novel strategies to suggest. Extreme care is recommended in the signing of all papers, contracts or documents, of both personal and business nature. There are signs of estrangements or disillusionments.

A child born on this day should be gifted with much energy and initiative. Its major enterprises may secure help from elders and strangers.

The Georgian military road, 130 miles long, is the only paved highway suitable for heavy motor traffic through the Caucasus mountains.

DINA CASHMAN + + +

By Kathleen Norris

(Copyright, 1942.)

CHAPTER IX

"Everyone'll know soon!" Tom said in satisfaction. His deep-set small eyes danced in his dark, broad face.

"It's this." Dina had to swallow again. "I've been an awful fool, Tom," she said slowly, not looking at him. "I'm—I'm afraid I'm in trouble."

"Money?" he asked promptly, still with his fond and indulgent smile.

"No! But if I had money I'd go away." Dina had followed an irresistible impulse to confide in him. But now she wishes she could draw back. Put into words, her story had in it nothing that a thousand others did not have. It was a story of shame and weakness and stupidity. Of all persons Tom O'Connor was the last to understand it.

"What's the matter?" he asked, staring. She saw his face redden. She knew that he was angry at himself, not at her, as the first ugly touch of suspicion reached him. Nobody had any right even to think such things in connection with Dina Cashman. Tom was already blaming himself.

"Oh, I've been a fool," she said wearily. "I oughtn't to tell you, Tom, but you've always been so good to me, and I've got to tell someone! I—you see—I liked this boy, Vere Holland, so much, and we went up into the Sierras together—and we were—we are—in love."

"You mean you're going to marry him?" Tom demanded in the silence.

"Well, eventually, yes." Her throat was dry; she spoke with an effort.

"How d'you mean eventually?"

"He's at law school in the east," she explained; he's taking a law course at Yale. He wrote me. That—that part of it's all right.

* * *

She could not go on. She looked away and felt the hot color creeping up to her cheeks.

"I don't know what you're trying to tell me," Tom said at last in a hard voice.

"That, I guess," Dina said very low. There was a moment of silence.

"You don't know what you're talking about!" Tom broke out roughly after a stupefied pause. "You! why, you've always been the touch-me-not, the girl none of the fellows could get near. You—you don't know what you're talking about!"

"We were up there in the mountains—" Dina stopped again. "I know how you feel," she said after a moment, "and you know how I do. I can't believe it even now. I can't sleep, Tom. It's like a horrible dream. But, oh God, if it is a dream, I wish I could wake up!" Dina broke off to say under her breath. "I've no friends, Tom; we're not like other people; we haven't cousins and uncles and people to help us out. There's nowhere I can go, and I've got to go somewhere."

She stopped, and for a long time neither spoke.

"Mother know?" he asked briefly.

"Oh, no! It'd kill her. She needs me and the girls need me, Dina went on ,turning suddenly drenched eyes to her companion.

"What does he say?" Tom slightly acceted the pronoun.

"He doesn't know. That is, I'm sure he doesn't."

The atmosphere had changed in the last five minutes. All the joy, the love, and tenderness had gone out of Tom's face, leaving it dark and hard.

"You tell me he doesn't know?"

"Well, I couldn't say it right out, I couldn't write the truth," she explained lamely. "He was with his mother, and she's—she's one of those tough women, I imagine. But I did write him—I sent him a handkerchief at Christmastime, the nicest I could buy in San Jose, and with the letter I said that he simply had to see me before he went away, that I was worried. He must have known from that. But he didn't say anything about it when he answered. That was just after New Years, and I haven't had a letter since."

"Where is he now?"

"In New Haven, I guess. I don't know the address."

She was silent and Tom silent too. His face, as he stared into space, was black.

"This is his affair," he began presently. "No one else can take it on. It's happened, and he's responsible. He's got to know."

* * *

Among all her other shamed and confused thoughts Dina was conscious of terror. Tom wasn't going to take it upon himself to notify him!

"It's mine; it's always the woman's," she said quickly and proudly.

Tom put his head down in his hands for a minute, rumpled his thick black locks. When he looked up his face was haggard.

"I don't get it," he said; "I don't get your falling for a guy like that. Has he money?" he demanded suddenly, looking up.

"Not of his own, I think. His mother gets alimony; I don't know how much. You see, she married again after she and his father were divorced—"

"I don't want to know what they did!" Tom interrupted with distaste.

"I mean that she forfeited what his father was paying her when she remarried. His father is rich—very rich, I believe. He expects Vere to become a lawyer and go in with his firm in New York, but he says he won't give him anything more until he gets his degree."

"He's not a bit what you think. He's generous and affectionate and terribly—terribly nice," Dina mustered spirit enough to say appealingly. "It—it was my fault, too. It wasn't anybody's fault—really!"

"Suppose not." Tom sighed. No use to blame her, to rage and scold now. "You'll have to let him know," he said.

"How can I? A girl from Railway Flats, with perhaps—perhaps all—all this coming on me in midsummer! Think what it would do to him! I couldn't bear it—she stopped, choking.

"If there should be a child, don't you see what you do to the kid?" Tom asked, his eyes sick with pity.

"But, Tom—but, Tom," she stammered, "it's not fair! It's not fair!"

"No," he said quietly. "Of course, it's not fair. Yet if I say to you that you and I'd get married, that we'd go ahead just as if everything was—was all right, that wouldn't be fair either."

"To you," she said quickly, her face aflame.

"To any of us," he answered soberly. "I—how would I feel about the baby? How would you? We'd start wrong."

* * *

She had never seen him in this mood before. Tom was a grown man today, sorrowful, quiet, and wise. All his Irish nonsense had dropped from him. Both had put something of the past away forever in this hour, and lightly as she had valued it, Dina felt terror and heartache as it went.

"Tom," she asked simply and pitifully, "what shall I do?"

"You'll have to join him, since he isn't here to join you," Tom told her.

"I can't do that!"

"Don't you see you have to, Dina? I'll give you the money. You find where he is and simply go east and tell him all about it."

Dina sat silent. Her thoughts were one wild protest, but it was no use to waste them on Tom. Unless Vere wrote her or wired her to come she knew well that she would never have the courage to follow him.

She could not turn their joyous young love idyll into the burden, the wreckage that it would mean to a hopeful young lawyer to have a sick, despairing woman suddenly appear with a claim upon him.

And that claim, she thought now with a kind of frenzy, was daily becoming more obvious, less concealable.

"When you meet him, tell him that as soon as you're married you'll come back here," Tom was saying; "make it a secret. Tell him that you'll never be a burden on him."

Hope flooded her heart.

"But what'll they think here?"

"You'll have to go away. San Francisco, perhaps, or Oakland. A big place where you can get lost. Then you'll have to land a job."

"There'll be weeks — months, when I can't work."

"That part," she said, staring ahead of him with darkened eyes, "we'll manage somehow."

"It's—it's something to do," she said. "It'll kill me, but I can do it! And then I'll go on alone. Other girls have—they've worked it out!"

"Dina," said her mother appearing in the doorway, "there isn't one single thing in the house for lunch. Hello, Tom; where'd you come from? Say, you two look like you'd been quarreling."

"Dina and I don't quarrel," Tom said, standing up. "Nothing in the house for lunch, hey? We'll go over to the dairy and we'll get eggs or something."

Sparkling Musical.

Fun, romance and rhythm are combined in "Springtime in the Rockies," the sparkling new musical film in technicolor showing at the Ohio. The picture presents a contingent of stars. Betty Grable, John Payne, Carmen Miranda, Cesar Romero and Harry James and his orchestra top the cast.

* * *

Doughboy Comedy.

The exploits of an ex-bandmaster who suddenly finds himself in the army as well as behind the eight-ball unless he can marry a certain society girl within a specified time and thereby win an inheritance are depicted in the Madison comedy, "Seven Days' Leave," Victor Mature plays the soldier and Lucille Ball the socialite. Freddy Martin's band is featured. The cast includes Ginny Simms and Harold (Gildersleeve) Peary. "Boston Blackie Goes Hollywood," with Chester Morris, shares the bill.

Musical Film.

Irving Berlin's music, the dancing of Fred Astaire and the crooning of Bing Crosby feature "Holiday Inn," the Ritz attraction. Virginia Dale and Marjorie Reynolds are Astaire's dancing partners. The production revolves around a song and dance man who converts a Connecticut farmhouse into an inn open only on holidays. Crosby appears in the latter role and Astaire and Miss Dale are his original stage partners. "The World At War," the U. S. government's first full-length motion picture is the co-attraction.

* * *

Spy Drama.

Ilona Massey plays a woman of mystery in "Invisible Agent," the spy drama showing at the Park with John Hall in the title role. Hall has the part of a United Nations secret service operative who is able to penetrate enemy headquarters because of his uncanny ability to become invisible. Peter Lorre, John Litel and J. Edward Bromberg are others in the cast. "One Thrilling Night," the second picture, has John Beal and Wanda McKay in principal roles.

Sport Podge

"How come you haven't said anything about our Joe Romano being picked on the All-Big Four football team at Cleveland?" asks John (Young Duke) Weber. "That's quite an honor for a freshman, you know."

That we know, Duke, that we know.

"I suppose," I retorted, "that you noticed we carried a picture and story about Joe being picked on the UP All-Ohio. And after making the All-Ohio, he should get on the All-Big Four, automatically."

Incidentally, you can take the UP All-Ohio as official, if you wish. The Associated Press gave up making selections on All-Ohio college, and All-Ohio conference teams when less than 40 per cent of coaches and sport writers eligible to vote, showed any interest.

Did you know that Madison high school's Rams broke a jinx of long standing last week when they trimmed the Loudonville Red Birds at Loudonville?

It was the first time in history, so I hear, that the Rams had triumphed over the Birds in basketball battle.

But there's another jinx in the athletic relationship between the two schools that still holds good.

* * *

Loudonville has never won a football game from Madison, coming only as close as a tie. The rambunctious Rams are more than willing to keep that jinx unbroken.

* * *

"Legs" Binckley, the Fremont high school football coach, and basketball official, was just a little bit puzzled by it all.

During Friday night's game between Mansfield and Newark at the high school gym, "Legs" tooted his whistle, pointed his finger at Bill Snowden, and made motions with his knee indicating that Snowden had booted his rival on the second, or posterior front.

* * *

Binckley was explaining the foul to Tyger Tutor Vern Hoffman after the game.

"And do you know what your guy said to me?" posed the perplexed Binckley "He said "Why, I hardly even hurt him!"

* * *

Perhaps Binckley should have been told Snowden thought the name of the game was "Football."

* * *

Coach Bobby Sherman of the Newark high school football team, keeping score along with Harry Mehock, got a boot out of the officiating too.

Particularly when Referee Skibbie called blocking on a Mansfield player, when the foul was unquestionably on a Newark boy for charging.

"That kid played football for me this fall," said Sherman, "but he never showed me as good a shoulder block as that one."

Barons Smothered By New Haven

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—The Indianapolis Capitols moved into second place behind the Western division's pace - setting Buffalo Bisons, by trouncing the Pittsburgh Hornets, 7-2, Saturday night, in the American hockey league.

New Haven smothered the Cleveland Barons, 9-2, Washington blanked Providence, 3-0, and Buffalo tied Hershey, 3-3 in the other games.

* * *

New Haven, last-place team in the eastern division, scored in every period—once in the first, twice in the second and five times in the third—to wallop the Barons, 1-d enders in the western division.

Ashland Willing to Play BG

Even If They Get Beat as They Did Saturday.

(By United Press)

BASKETBALL—Like love and war these days—appears to be strictly a young man's game, and the younger the better the Falcons of Bowling Green university agree.

Unperturbed by their own withdrawal from the Ohio Athletic conference and by the imminent threat of future cancellations of basketball games with conference opponents, the Falcons are breezing merrily through their games.

* * *

And leading the Bowling Green quintet is young Wyndol Gray, a freshman forward from Akron South whose accurate eyes and arms have accounted for 110 points in four games.

* * *

Gray led the Falcons to their fifth straight triumph Saturday night when they defeated Ashland college 63 to 35. Gray did not play in one of the Bee-Gee's games or perhaps he would have another 25 points tacked onto his total. Against Ashland he dropped in nine field goals and six fouls for 24 points. His single high-scoring game to date was 34 points in one night.

Mt. Union's Purple Raiders, paced by Stan Baughman's 17 points, held off Ohio university's strong bid against the Ohio conference champions to win 42 to 36 for their second victory of the season. Center Baughman's 17 points with the 24 he scored against Findlay in the Mount's opener gave him 41 for the youthful season.

Shortly before the game, Athletic Director Robert D. Wright announced that Mt. Union had cancelled the remainder of its athletic contests with Bowling Green because the Falcons disregarded "conference eligibility standards."

Wooster college announced that it also had cancelled its schedule with the Falcons and it was reported that an unofficial "boycott" might be employed against Bowling Green.

* * *

Apparently, however, other Ohio conference colleges may not follow the lead set by Wooster and Mt. Union. Ashland college, defeated by the Falcons Saturday night, said it had no objection to playing Bowling Green at any time.

* * *

Bowling Green's 1942-43 basketball schedule would be riddled considerably, however, if the remainder of her conference opponents cancelled. When the Falcons withdrew from the conference recently because they found they could not schedule sufficient conference games for their football team, it was believed that the basketball games would be played on a non-conference basis.

The Toledo Rockets sky-larked along by defeating Kent State 61 to 30 in a conference game. Charley Harmon and Dave Minor, Toledo forwards, each scored 16 points to pace the Rockets to their third straight victory of the season.

From a spectator viewpoint, perhaps the most thrilling game of the week-end was the one engaged in by Miami university and Wabash at Oxford, O. The lead changed 14 times while the score was tied 11 times in the game before Miami finally came through with a 50 to 47 victory over Wabash. Bob Brown, freshman center from Greenville, led Miami with 11 points.

The Great Lakes Naval training station quintet stumbled through with a 49 to 46 victory over the Buckeyes of Ohio State, but not before the Bucks had thrown quite a scare into the polished Cadet team.

It was the Bucks' first defeat of the season, but might well have been their second victory if time hadn't run out.

Trailing 40 to 47 with only two minutes to play, the Bucks had the Sailors reeling when they dropped in six points to bring them within sight of victory. But with only a few seconds to play, the Sailors got two more points when Dick Klein dropped in a field goal.

Paced by their veteran Center Leo Mogus the Youngstown Penguins took their second victory of the season by defeating Hiram 63 to 37. It was Hiram's first defeat.

* * *

Defiance college had a nip-and-tuck engagement with Detroit Tech before Detroit nosed them out 61 to 60. It was Defiance's second loss against the same number of victories.

* * *

Small Cedarville dropped another game over the week-end, this time to Earlham by a score of 41 to 21, while Penn college at Cleveland found that even its home court couldn't spur them to victory, going down before Allegheny, 48 to 19 in their opening game of the season.

Case traveled to Carnegie Tech and were well-rewarded by shading the Scots 52 to 50 in another season opener.

Akron dropped its second game in three starts when they journeyed to Canisius and found the boys too tough by a 49 to 37 margin.

BIERMAN BOOKED

YOUNGSTOWN - (INS) - The gridiron club's annual Youngstown college "appreciation dinner" will feature as the speaker of the evening Jan. 11, Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman, former Minnesota head football mentor, now coach of the Iowa Navy Pre Flight school at Iowa City.

Sport Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Don't quote me, but . . . the reason why Branch Rickey took Joe Medwick off the trading block was that the Dodgers didn't receive a single nibble from any club . . . And the betting is 3-5 in Brooklyn that Dolph Camilli sticks to his decision to remain on his California ranch in spite of Rickey's efforts to talk him out of it . . . Another Dodger who may be missing, come spring, is Arky Vaughan. He and Leo the Lip aren't exactly Damon and Pythias.

BACHMAN MEETS DEFEAT

It wasn't until the end of the Michigan State football season that Coach Charley Bachman learned why Halfback Dick Kieppee turned up nearly every Monday with bruised feet that slowed his running . . . Then Dick finally confessed that daily practice and Saturday games hadn't satisfied his appetite for football so he used to get into sandlot touch football games on Sunday . . . And since he had no cleats, he took off his shoes to obtain better footing when he ran.

* * *

MONDAY MATINEE

Wonder if that masters' degree Jimmy Conzelman is getting from Dayton U marks the first time a grid coach has been so honored? Jimmy doesn't know the answer to that one . . . A half dozen trotting and pacing horses have been named after General Douglas MacArthur in the past few weeks. Frank Platz of Sigel, Ill., got in first to register the name "General MacArthur" for a colt sired, appropriately, but Fortunate . . . Red Garrett, the New York Rangers' fiery young defenseman, insists it wasn't a "fight" he and a teammate Joe Bell started during practice the other day. "When I get into a fight it's always with the biggest guy," Red says. "I probably would have picked Vic Myles."

* * *

SERVICE DEPT.

Pvt. Joe Medeiros of Camp Blanding, Fla., is perfectly willing to do the Dodgers a good turn by becoming that ranch hand Dolph Camilli needs. Writing from the station hospital, Joe says he's about to be discharged from the army and he always worked on California ranches before he went into uniform . . . Ever heard how the private gave the major a black eye and stayed out of the guard house? Well, the major is Paul E. Zehfuss of the medical corps. He's a former Pitt basketball star who coaches the Fort Monroe, Va., court team and he acquired the shiner by scrimmaging with his squad. "One of the boys accidentally stuck his finger in my eye," Major Zehfuss explained.

MEETS NETTLOW

PHILADELPHIA —(U.P.)— Sugar Ray Robinson, undefeated welterweight boxer, meets Al Nettlow of Detroit, in the feature 10-round bout at Convention hall tonight. Robinson, seeking his 40th straight professional victory, has been made a 10-to-1 choice.

Betting Soars At Race Tracks

Trade Fails to Hurt. Loss of California

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK—(AP)—In spite of the loss of the rich California "trade," wagering at United States race tracks soared to such skyscraper heights in 1942 as to forecast a dizzy billion-dollar-a-year betting business in the not-too-distant future.

* * *

The annual Associated Press survey showed the nation's aggregate betting in 19 states leaped to $948,067,552 for this wartime year, a jump of more than $422,000,000 over 1941.

* * *

This big boost became all the more startling when you figure that (1) the "shaving" of the California campaign from 286 to 66 days resulted in a difference of $86,000,000 alone and (2) race tracks from coast to coast were handed headaches throughout the year, notably because of transportation difficulties.

With the boom in business for the "iron men," topped off by New York's all-time high mark of $175,158,374 bet, came a corresponding jump in the revenue derived by the various states as their "cut" from the gee-gees. The state governments picked up a grand total of $26,068,754.93 from racing, compared to $21,652,564.56 a year ago.

* * *

Only Florida, New Hampshire and Nebraska—in addition to California — showed any decrease in the amount of betting during the year. And only New Hampshire, Kentucky and Nebraska joined California in a drop in state revenue from the sport of kings and the two-buck bettor.

* * *

Ohioans wagered $10,249,253 in 1942 against $7,984,848 in 1941. The 1942 state profit was $173,475 against $136,860 in 1941.

Dodgers To Keep Medwick

Draft Status Makes Big Hit With Rickey.

By JACK MAHON

NEW YORK—(INS)—Branch (the Brain) Rickey, the righteous citizen who hopes to bring new culture and another National league pennant to the baseball bums of Brooklyn, held a pow-wow with the press over the week-end in which he disclosed that Joe Medwick is no longer on the trading market and—horror of horrors—has been toying with an idea to try Mr. "Muscles" at third base.

The Brain brought up Medwick's name as he was surveying the Dodger roster to give the scribes a fair idea of what non-draftable players might be cavorting a full season in '43 at Ebbets Field. Joe the Muscle is married and a father but his spirit in recent seasons, and standing with some members of the team, has not been what you might call 1-A.

He was listed an almost certain trade bait but when Pete Reiser, No. 1 outfielder on the club, was recently called for his army physical, the Brain suddenly discovered unknown qualities in the husky outfielder.

* * *

"Medwick is a good ball player and I think I can straighten him out when I talk to him in St. Louis," said Mr. Brain as he signed a requisition for another half dozen checker boards to send his new hirelings for the holidays.

* * *

"He has one of the best pair of hands I ever saw for an outfielder. When he gets them on a ball I rarely have seen him drop it. Some fans have commented that Pee Wee Reese played shortstop, and all of left field except the wall the last couple of seasons but that's not fair. I don't think Joe's such a bad outfielder and he can also play third base. You know he was originally a third baseman. I wonder how he'd go there now?"

The Brain is very happy over his pitching prospects. Going through his list of veterans and reserves he pointed out only Kirby Higbe, Ed Head, Chet Kehn and Larry French are apt to be drafted. The first three are married with no children while French is expecting a favorable reply to his application for a navy commission.

This leaves a list headed by Fred Fitzsimmons, Whit Wyatt, Curt Davis and Max Macon, which also included Kimball, Weber, Newsom, Rowe, Melton, Chipman and Moulder. All of these are married with children and seem set for a full year.

* * *

"If the rest of the club was as well set as the pitching staff we'd really be in shape to give those Cardinals a tussle," said Rickey. "It seems a case of subtraction is needed rather than addition with this staff."

* * *

Dodger fans already have started filling the Brain's mail box with letters of complaint and criticism. "My but they do take things seriously here," gasped the good Mr. Rickey. "Such language."

BROWN REFUSES ALIBI ON WISCONSIN GAME

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)— Coach Paul Brown, here to address an Ohio State alumni dinner, confirmed reports that his gridders were ill for the Wisconsin game, only defeat suffered by Ohio State this season, but added that "no alibis were in order."

"We were licked," he said simply.

Brown reluctantly admitted that the entire squad, together with coaches and newsmen, suffered from dysentery because of a change in drinking water.

Schowegler Takes Title

Wisconsin Kegler Wins Match Game Tournament.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Connie Schowegler wrapped $1,500 around his bank roll today and lugged home a huge trophy after winning the national match game bowling championship with one of the most remarkable pin spilling displays in the popular sport's history.

* * *

The 25-year-old Madison, Wis., stylist averaged 217.18 in the 72-game finals, winning 55 games and losing only 17 while smashing a total of 15,637 pins to collect 368.37 points.

* * *

He kept the championship in Wisconsin, where it had been monopolized by his rival, Ned Day of West Allis, for the last four years.

Day, fagged out before entering the final three-day stretch after beating Johnny Crimmins of Detroit in a special 90-game challenge match, finished in eighth place with 319.16 points. Frank Benkovic of Milwaukee vaulted into the runner-up spot with 332.40 points.

Andy Varipapa, the Brooklyn instructor, placed third and Crimmins stepped into fourth.

Washington Redskins Upset Mighty Bears

Stonewall Defense Stops Chicago Cold In National Title Battle

By PAT O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Washington Redskins, a vastly under-rated club if ever there was one, occupy the top rung of the football ladder today and they'll probably remain there for the duration.

Magnificent line play along with some superb passing and kicking by Slingin' Sammy Baugh thrilled 36,006 frozen but happy spectators as the Redskins trampled the hitherto unbeatable Chicago Bears yesterday to win the professional football championship 14 to 6.

* * *

"We beat their pants off," gloated Ki Aldrich, 210-pound Washington center from Texas Christian who played the full 60 minutes and was the outstanding performer in a forward wall that stopped the Bears' vaunted "T" formation cold.

* * *

Aldric, Wee Willie Wilkin, Bob Masterson, Ed Cigers, Bill Young and others of the Redskins line turned in what unquestionably was the greatest exhibition of blocking and tackling and charging seen in the Pro league all season.

The Bears, who had run up a streak of 24 consecutive victories and were billed as the greatest combination in football history, were definitely off the beam.

* * *

"We deserved to lose, and we lost to a better ball club," Coach Hunk Anderson said while congratulating Owner George P. Marshall of the Redskins.

* * *

Baugh, football's greatest passer, completed five out of 13 tossing attempts for gains totaling 65 yards.

Ray Flaherty, Redskin coach, was the happiest of all as the victorious Washingtons celebrated after the game. He leaves today to become a lieutenant in the navy. And besides, he figures yesterday's win took some of the sting out of the humiliating 73-0 pasting the Redskins took two years ago, the last time they met the Western division champions for the world title.

Andy Farkas, who sparked the long march that led to Washington's second touchdown, said afterward that he was hit so hard he couldn't even remember playing most of the game.

"I hate to miss a good ball game like that," he added.

* * *

The game may be the last big time pro contest for the duration, what with players leaving for the armed services in droves, transportation difficulties, etc.

* * *

The 36,006 customers paid a record playoff gate of $113,260.40. Of that, $35,397.47 goes to the Redskins' player pool. The Bears will receive $23,598.32.

36 Bar Blanks Bissman Birds

Need Handicap In Only One Game of Loop Tilt.

Needing their 56-pin game handicap in only one game, the City "A" league leading 36 Bar keglers blanked Bissman Birdie Brands last night to boost their margin of three full games over Orange St. Cafe.

* * *

The handicap gave 36 Bar two games over the 1,000 mark, and a 3,015 total.

* * *

The loop leaders were paced by Johnny Bernat's blazing 679 series of 245-201-233, which was high for the league. Phil Warga had a 620 total, Henry Michaels, home on furlough from the army, chalked up a 644 total and 244 game, W. Huck rolled 624, and E. Burger had a 603 total.

Bernat's 245 was high game.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. — (AP) — Johnny August of Shadyside, O., was reported today to have the inside track for the starting assignment at left halfback on Alabama's football team in the Orange Bowl game with Boston college, as the Crimson Tide got down to serious practice sessions this week.

Baldinger Takes Rifle Club Shoot

J. Baldinger took first in the 30-yard off hand shoot of the Mansfield Muzzle Loader rifle club Saturday with a 59 9 per centage. G. Lantz was second with 40 and L. Church third with 33.2.

Baldinger also took the 30-yard string measure match with 4.27 inches for three shots, Church was second with 4.30, and J. Adams third with 5.20.

In 50-yard rest shooting, T. Nelson copped the group match with .85 inches across, E. Light had 1.25, and Baldinger 2.27. In string measure match, Schantz was first with three shots in only 1.94 inches, from center, Nelson was next with 2.46 and third with 2.26.

SALARY LOANS

How single men and women and married couples without cars or furniture can borrow on their earning ability—No endorsers needed

WANT to get a loan quickly and without asking favors of friends? Household Finance offers a simple, private way for men and women with jobs to borrow $20 to $500. No endorsers or guarantors are ever needed.

Repay by the month—or in full at any time

You may repay your loan in monthly instalments arranged to fit your income. Or you may repay in full at any time and pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. A $50 loan, repaid in four monthly instalments of $13.29 each, costs just $3.16. A $25 loan, repaid at the end of two weeks, costs only 29¢.

See the table below for popular payment plans. All payments include charges. You pay nothing more. We have no hidden charges. Compare Household's charges with others before you borrow anywhere.

3 ways to get a loan

We make three kinds of loans. 1: Salary loans—for the convenience of folks who have no car or furniture on which to borrow. 2: Auto loans—a loan on your car may suit your needs. 3. Furniture loans—hundreds of families get furniture loans. We will make your loan the way that best fits your own situation.

You may get a Household loan to pay up old bills, medical or dental expenses, repairs, taxes, insurance—for almost any purpose. If you need a loan, phone or visit us today.

ILLNESS FATAL

Miss Margaret Smith Dies In Cleveland.

ASHLAND—Miss Margaret H. Smith, 49, former Ashland resident, died Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Woman's hospital in Cleveland following a short illness.

The body will be brought to Ashland Tuesday afternoon for burial. Services will be conducted at the grave at Ashland cemetery at 2 p. m., by Rev. A. H. Smith, retired pastor of Trinity Lutheran church.

Nearest survivors of Miss Smith are cousins in Ashland, Crestline and Pennsylvania. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Smith.

HOME RAZED

Kelly Residence Gutted By Fire at Galion.

GALION—A fire which started from an overheated furnace destroyed a two story frame residence, owned by Homer Kelly, Saturday at 10:30 a. m. The house, located at 412 Fairview avenue, was a duplex, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Kelly, and their son, Rex, and his family.

The blaze, discovered by the owner, had gained headway throughout the furnace room and basement when the Galion fire department was called. Although an estimate of the damage was not available, firemen said that the interior of the house was completely ruined and the roof of the kitchen had caved in. When the fire department arrived the entire house was in flames.

Most of the furnishings of the house as well as the personal effects of the residents were saved.

ON COMMITTEE

MILLERSBURG—The Colloquium club elected Mrs. Ernest Armstrong, Miss Elizabeth Palmer and Miss Helen Adams, members of the executive committee.

NO CHARGE FOR 20th

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. — (U.P.) — If the stork makes its 20th visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Roy Hill, medical services will be free of charge. Dr. T. E. Teah, attending physician at birth of the Hills' 19th child, a boy, told the proud father that "the next one is on me."

If the famous Meteor Crater in Arizona were an athletic stadium it has been estimated it would seat 2,600,000 persons.

In the days of Queen Elizabeth Englishmen were required by law to eat fish 55 days of the year.

UNEVEN TRENDS STILL CLOUDING STOCK MARKET

WPB Releases Equipment For Railroads Which Had Been Frozen Earlier.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Trends remained slightly uneven in today's early stock market dealings.

Up a shade at a quiet opening were American Smelting, Sears Roebuck, Liggett & Myers "B," Baltimore & Ohio, Johns-Manville and Republic Steel. Minor declines were posted for Chrysler, Socony-Vacuum, U. S. Steel and Standard Oil (N.J.)

Boardrooms scanned the survey of the magazine "Steel" which said that the "war production board has released some locomotive and freight car orders, which had been frozen earlier in the year, as a start toward the equipment desired by the carriers for 1943."

The review added that readjustment of the armament program was causing certain cancellations and larger replacements elsewhere might not serve to take up the slack.

COURT NEWS IN HOLMES COUNTY

MILLERSBURG — Common pleas court: Peter H. Domer of Sugarcreek has filed a foreclosure suit against Moses J. Miller, Nancy J. Miller, Topeka, Ind., David D. Barkman and Samuel A. Troyer, Sugarcreek route, and the Federal Land bank of Louisville, Ky., asking foreclosure of a mortgage.

The plaintiff claims $1,800 with six per cent interest from May 1, 1931, is due on a promissory note. The note was secured by a mortgage on the real estate in Clark township, Holmes county, Defendants, David D. Barkman, Samuel A. Troyer and the Federal Land bank have an interest in the land and are asked to set up claims.

Probate court: Theodore Gelb has been appointed guardian of George William Lemon, a minor, and furnished bond in the sum of $1,000.

In matter of trusteeship of estate of Ora A. Koch, the court grants Reuben Hostetler, trustee for Robert Thomas Elliott, under Koch will, authority to invest $1,500 in U. S. government bonds.

MARRIED OCT. 10

MILLERSBURG — Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mabel Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clark of Niagara Falls, N. Y., to Carl Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bishop, South Washington street, Millersburg.

The wedding took place in the First Baptist church in Niagara Falls, N. Y., Saturday evening, Oct. 10. After a wedding trip to the south, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will live in Niagara Falls.

Bishop has been employed as a supervisor in the chemical engineering department of the Carborundum plant in that city since his graduation from Ohio State university five years ago.

STUDY PLANS FOR COUNCIL CLEAN-UP MEET

Officials Hope to Dispose of All '42 Financial Problems Before Year's End.

In order to clear up all 1942 financial affairs of the city, Mayor W. J. Locke said today he will confer at once with members of council on the advisability of a meeting the latter part of this week.

Service Director Fred B. Wolff and City Engineer W. E. Statler said today there are several minor fund transfers which must be acted on before Jan. 31.

Locke intimated today that the special session of council will be asked to consider pay increases petitioned for by virtually all city employes.

Police and fire department members are asking a boost of $25 monthly for each member, the same figure being asked by most salaried employes in other departments, hourly wage workers asking a hike of 15 cents an hour.

Computations by City Auditor Paul L. Kelley indicate that the annual increase to the city would approximate $55,000 in event the maximum requests are granted. However, in a letter to the city investment board a week ago protesting the investment of idle city money in war bonds, Mayor W. J. Locke cited "contemplated pay increases of around $25,000."

This would indicate that salary committee members and the mayor have conferred on the pay pleas although no confirmation could be obtained from either salary committee members. Second Ward Councilman C. N. Shultz did say at the last council meeting that a "new item" exceeding $20,000 would have to be considered in the 1943 expenses, probably a reference to the pay boost.

Proposals for the improvement of Grover avenue and of East Arch street from Cleveland to Jeanette avenues will be presented at the next meeting. Transfer of funds to meet 1942 improvement costs also will be considered.

There have been reports also that council will act favorably on an ordinance proposing appropriation of $6,000 for construction of the Sycamore storm sewer, an improvement sought by Third ward property owners for 10 years.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — Glamour factory at war:

There is nothing official about it but Hollywood is already considering the delicate sensibilities of its rationed customers.

Just as the movies have stopped infuriating their rubber-conscious fans with chase scenes involving screeching automobile tires, they are going to spare them the delicious torment of scenes involving pre-war eating.

Coons

One studio, devoted mainly to the cowboy drama, already has taken the bull by the horns,—or would if it could find a bull. It's going to cut down the size of the thundering herds of cattle seen in its operas. It doesn't want to tantalize the customers with such lovely visions of steak-on-the-hoof.

It's a good thing that DeMille is going to do "The Story of Dr. Wassell" ins'ead of one of his fables of ancient Babylon. In Dr. Wassel's heroic exploit there were 't any feasts. The combination of DeMille and ancient history just naturally calls for scenes of wild gorging on fatted boar, succulent pheasant, and rich red meat—enough to drive a ration-conscious housewife to tears and her spouse to drooling.

To a lady who has combed the markets with a dream of ripe, luscious steak (and probably not found it), producers realize it would be maddening if not cruel to display on the screen a couple of movie stars chawing away at a sizzler hot from the broiler—with sound effects.

If meat-rationing comes, such a scene could easily start a riot. There's a lady in the new "Michael Shayne" who dotes on steak, but they don't show her eating it.

* * *

I can think of a lot of pictures that would stand cutting if shown today. "Henry the Eighth," for one—those shots of Hank tearing whole hunks of beef asunder and tossing the bones over his shoulder.

For another, "Talk of the Town," with Cary Grant wolfing the provender Jean Arthur brings to his attic hideout. And "Song of the Islands," with the luau and that 40-pound roast pig, browned and crackling, with an apple in his snout—in technicolor!

REPORT ICKES TO TAKE HAND IN MINER ROW

Washington Expects Action on Deadlock Over Sixth-Day Operations of Mines.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Harold L. Ickes, solid fuels coordinator, today was expected to attempt to break the deadlock of Appalachian soft coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America over sixth-day operations of bituminous mines.

The two groups announced Saturday that they had been unable to agree on contract amendments providing for a six-day work week. Ickes on Sept. 29 had asked them to extend the current 35-hour week to meet bituminous coal needs for 1943, which he said would amount to 600-million tons. Negotiations between the operators and miners have continued since that date.

The chief issue was whether the basic Appalachian wage agreement should be changed to provide specifically for the sixth day of work. Both sides were willing to work the extra day, with miners to receive time and a one-half for that day's labor, but they disagreed on whether the added work should be required.

The miners declared they were willing to work a sixth day to aid in the war effort, but claimed "the six-day operation, from the very start, was understood to be a voluntary contribution to the war effort. . . ."

Operators, however, maintained a provision making the sixth day's work mandatory should be inserted into the amendment. They also stated that the RUMW had refused to allow persons working the extra day to be subject to existing rules and discipline.

HITS WAR LABOR POLICY

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—John Owens, president of District 6, United Mine Workers of America, asserted today coal miners could not meet increased production goals under the nation's war program unless the government altered its policies towards the industry.

Proportionately more miners have entered the armed forces than from any other basic industry, creating an acute manpower shortage in the pits, Owens said as delegates representing some 30,000 Ohio and West Virginia diggers opened their annual four-day convention here.

BRIBERY TRIALS SET FOR JAN. 5

Judge, Race Official, and Bank Cashier Plead Innocent In Old Estate Case.

GREENVILLE—(U.P.)—The trials of three Ohioans, a probate court judge, a member of the state racing commission, and a bank cashier, on charges of extortion and bribery will begin Jan. 5.

Probate Court Judge Harry E. Miles of Darke county pleaded innocent in common pleas court to an indictment charging him with extortion and bribery in a case growing out of the administration of an old estate and Common Please Judge Jesse K. Brumbaugh set bond at $1,000 and fixed Jan. 5 for trial.

T. A. Billingsley, member of the state racing commission, and Joseph E. Menke, cashier of the Farmers National bank at Greenville, also pleaded innocent to a bribery indictment in the same case. Billingsley will be tried Jan. 7 and Menke Jan. 8.

The indictment which was returned last week charged that Menke and his attorney, Billingsley, applied to Judge Miles for a $10,900 fee in May, 1942, for handling the estate of Village S. Marker which has been in litigation since 1918. Menke was named administrator in 1927.

The extortion and bribery charge against Judge Miles charged he attempted to extort $1,500 from Menke and Billingsley for allowing the fee and the bribery charge against Menke and Billingsley charged they offered the judge the money "in an attempt to influence" the court.

All three dismissed the charges as ridiculous.

Sponsored by McVey post of the Legion, the party will include talks, music and a lunch. J. B. Conard is in charge of arrangements and James Brownscombe will be toastmaster.

Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston, veteran of the first World war. Also scheduled for brief talks are Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch and Mayor W. J. Locke. Rev. G. E. Swoyer, Legion chaplain, will give the invocation.

Gold star parents of this war will be introduced by Earl Saltzgaber, chairman of the Richland Civic Victory committee.

Servicemen in Mansfield on leave have also been invited to attend the party.

SAFE SHOWS

So Police Stop Auto and Arrest Four Young Suspects.

CLEVELAND —(U.P.)— Sticking out of a passing automobile's trunk was a 200-pound safe, so Sergeant Sam Troutman, piloting a police cruiser, investigated.

The four occupants of the car, aged 18 to 21, readily surrendered. They told the sergeant that after taxing about $50 worth of cigars, cigarets and knick-knacks from an East Side drug store they had lifted the safe into their car. Police had to use a hoist to remove the safe.

STRIKE HOLDS UP DELIVERY OF NEW YORK MORNING NEWSPAPERS

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK — New Yorkers—and suburbanites for miles around—were without their morning papers today because of an unexpected strike of 3,300 members of the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers' union.

Demanding "improved" pay and working conditions, the truck drivers last night refused to deliver papers to city news stands and railroad stations alike. At an early hour today, representatives of the unions and publishers of the eight morning and evening papers affected were still in conference.

The conference adjourned at 6:30 a. m. without reaching a decision after eight hours' of continuous discussion.

Conferees announced receipt of a telegram from James D. Ewing, acting assistant executive secretary of the war labor board in Washington, asking the strikers to return to work pending further negotiations.

There was a possibility that even the afternoon papers—the Journal-American, Sun, Post and World-Telegram,—also would be unable to distribute their editions should the strike continue.

Only papers not affected were PM, the city's newest paper, the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, the Long Island Daily Press and most of the foreign language papers.

The morning papers—the Daily Mirror, Daily News, Times and Herald-Tribune—printed only a few hundred copies. The News and Times placed papers on sale at their offices while the Mirror and Herald-Tribune printed only enough for their files.

Police were assigned to guard picket lines at the city's newspaper plants but there were no disorders.

PRINTER DIES

Vernon Rogers, 56, Stricken at Millersburg Saturday.

Vernon Rogers, 56, former Mansfield printer, died Saturday evening at the Smith rest home in Millersburg, his birthplace, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Rogers was taken to Pomerene hospital, Millersburg, from Mansfield General hospital on Dec. 6, and last Friday was taken to the rest home. He had been employed at the Marquis Printing company here for about 10 years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Rollin Jollis, Vermillion; two brothers, Charles of Millersburg and Pvt. Wayne Rogers of Fort McClellan, Alabama; two sisters, Mrs. Maud McMillen of Cleveland, and Mrs. Elizabeth Willis of Wheaton, Ill., and three grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Elliott funeral home this evening. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday by Rev. R. R. Dieterick of the Millersburg Methodist church and burial will be in the Millersburg cemetery.

PARTY TONIGHT

Four Blue-Tri Clubs to Stage Christmas Program.

The Christmas program of the four Blue-Tri clubs will be presented at the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30 p. m. otday. The program, "Told In All Tongues," will show the contributions of different nationality and racial groups to the American Christmas.

Carol singing will be included in the entertainment. Program chairman is Virginia Marion of the inter-club council.

Mansfield boys in service may hear a local singer if they happen to be in the camps where Bob Early is touring with the "Hit the Deck" Unit 57 of the USO shows. Bob recently was accepted in the unit after an audition. His unit will leave Chester, Va., today and start on a 23-weeks' tour of the country. Another Mansfield singer, Miss Kathleen MacIntosh, is one of a group of 12 girls who will entertain for a month at the Mt. Royal hotel in Montreal, Canada.

Even Christmas vacations will be "rationed" to pupils of Bellville and Butler schools as a part of the war effort. Each school will have only the holiday and New Years Day as "time off" instead of the week or more they usually enjoy. These schools, which have been having Saturday classes to pick up an extra two weeks of time in the spring, so that pupils may work on farms or otherwise help in defense endeavor, will gain another week by the holiday curtailment.

For the first time in more than 15 years, it seemed likely today, the annual Christmas party for boys of the Y. M. C. A. will not be held unless a sponsor turns up. In former years, 150 or more boys would crowd into the Y gymnasium for their holiday games, stories, treats and presents from Santa. The Phalanx fraternity, which has had charge of the affair for the past three Christmases won't be able to treat the boys this year since about 23 of their original 30 members are in the armed services.

Hubert Tappan, 597 Park avenue west, qualified for the honorary fireman scroll this morning. When central station firemen reached the Tappan home on an alarm received at 8 a. m. they found Hubert in the basement diligently playing a stream of water from a garden hose on a woodwork blaze presumably started by defective wiring. Captain L. R. Zimmerman reported the cellar full of smoke but that Tappan, grimy and fume-choked, refused to leave the scene of battle until chemical extinguishers had blanketed out the flames. Damage was slight.

ILL ONE WEEK

Roy Wittel, 37, Dies Sunday In Shelby Hospital.

SHELBY—Roy N. Wittel, 37, 19 Oak street, died Sunday in the Shelby Memorial hospital after a week's illness.

An employe of the Ohio Seamless Tube company, the deceased was a member of the Lutheran church and Eagles lodge.

He is survived by his wife, Martha; one son, Richard, at home; one daughter, Martha, of Cleveland; his father, J. A. Wittel, Shelby, and one brother, J. M. Whittel, Shelby.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday from the Barkdull funeral home by Rev. D. B. Young, pastor of the First Lutheran church. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

STORED MONEY TO BE RELEASED

Federal Reserve to Put New Bills In Circulation.

There's going to be some new paper money in circulation soon, but except for its crispness it will look just like the "greenbacks" you have now.

The Federal Reserve system board of governors announced today that member Reserve banks have been authorized to release currency which has been printed for 10 years but was never placed in circulation.

The notes, in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50, and $100, will be released as needed in a total amount up to $660,000,000, the board said.

RITES SET FOR R. L. PATTERSON

Church Custodian To Be Buried Wednesday Afternoon.

Funeral services for Robert L. Patterson, 77, who was found dead Saturday afternoon in the foyer of the United Presbyterian church will be conducted at 3 p. m. Wednesday from the Finefrock funeral home with Rev. J. Campbell White, pastor of the church, in charge. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Born in Muskingum county, Mr. Patterson had been a resident of this city for 60 years. For a number of years he was employed at the Roderick Lean Manufacturing company, but in the past few years he had acted as custodian of the Mechanics Building and Loan company and the church where his body was found.

His survivors include one son, Gordon Patterson and two grandsons, Robert and Gordon, jr., all of Shreveport, La.

OBSERVERS FORESEE LIMITS ON MEAT LATER

Delay In Printing of Coupon Books Holds Up New Consumer Programs.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—A possibility that dairy products may precede meat on the rationing list arose today as one high official asserted that OPA had never officially committed itself to a date for the meat program or listed it as the first commodity to be handled under the new "point rationing" system.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson disclosed at a press conference that his agency has "one or two more" major rationing program coming up. The new eight page, 192-coupon "point rationing" book now being printed will enable the OPA to take care of two additional programs.

An official, who declined to be quoted, asserted, however, that it would be unwise to launch two programs at the same time until the nation's housewives become familiar with the intricacies of the "point rationing" system.

He also disclosed that delays in printing the millions of coupon books, forms and other material necessary for "point rationing" will prevent distribution of the books the latter part of this month and institution of another rationing program in January.

The official said that, although the government has committed itself to meat rationing as soon as possible, OPA has never officially subscribed to the often reported mid-January inauguration date.

OPA has previously announced that meat would be distributed under a "point rationing" system but it was recalled that meat was not specified as the first such program.

Meantime, the situation in regard to dairy products has become increasingly critical, with officials proclaiming the most serious butter shortage in 10 years. WPB recently "froze" millions of pounds of butter in warehouses.

In addition, to relieve the pressure on butter fats, WPB banned production of heavy whipping cream and ordered a reduction of 20 per cent in the output of ice cream.

Despite such an advance "build up" for rationing, there is no fear in official circles of a "run" on dairy products or hoarding, since such commodities are extremely perishable.

Says Dairymen Favor Strike To Boost Milk Price

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Eighty-five per cent of the milk producers in the central Ohio area favor a "strike" unless they receive higher prices, J. R. Bridenstein, secretary-treasurer of the Central Ohio Cooperative Milk Producers association, said today.

Bridenstein said his pronouncement was based on a survey among some 2,400 farmers supplying Columbus, showing only 15 per cent were against "keeping the milk at home rather than selling it at present prices." He expressed the hope that a price advance would follow a current OPA survey in the area.

A federal-state agriculture report showed Columbus area producers received $2.95 a hundredweight for fluid milk, compared with prices ranging from $3.55 to $3.70 HWT throughout the state.

Dairymen in eight milksheds sell milk for bottling for $3 or more per hundredweight and the price is under $3 in seven other major markets.

Cincinnati, where milk is 15 cents a quart delivered, pays a high of $3.55.

Other cities where milk sells for 13 cents a quart all pay less than $3, with the exception of Sandusky where the November price was $3.15. Other 13-cent markets and prices to farmers early in December: Mansfield $2.90; Springfield $2.80; Youngstown $2.85.

The delivered price of milk in other areas paying $3 or more to farmers is 14 cents a quart.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — Glamour factory at war:

There is nothing official about it but Hollywood is already considering the delicate sensibilities of its rationed customers.

Just as the movies have stopped infuriating their rubber-conscious fans with chase scenes involving screeching automobile tires, they are going to spare them the delicious torment of scenes involving pre-war eating.

Coons

One studio, devoted mainly to the cowboy drama, already has taken the bull by the horns,—or would if it could find a bull. It's going to cut down the size of the thundering herds of cattle seen in its operas. It doesn't want to tantalize the customers with such lovely visions of steak-on-the-hoof.

* * *

It's a good thing that DeMille is going to do "The Story of Dr. Wassell" instead of one of his fables of ancient Babylon. In Dr. Wassel's heroic exploit there weren't any feasts. The combination of DeMille and ancient history just naturally calls for scenes of wild gorging on fatted boar, succulent pheasant, and rich red meat—enough to drive a ration-conscious housewife to tears and her spouse to drooling.

To a lady who has combed the markets with a dream of ripe, luscious steak (and probably not found it), producers realize it would be maddening if not cruel to display on the screen a couple of movie stars chawing away at a sizzler hot from the broiler—with sound effects.

If meat-rationing comes, such a scene could easily start a riot. There's a lady in the new "Michael Shayne" who dotes on steak, but they don't show her eating it.

And "Song of the Islands," with the luau and that 40-pound roast pig, browned and crackling, with an apple in his snout—in technicolor!

REPORT ICKES TO TAKE HAND IN MINER ROW

Washington Expects Action on Deadlock Over Sixth-Day Operations of Mines.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Harold L. Ickes, solid fuels coordinator, today was expected to attempt to break the deadlock of Appalachian soft coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America over sixth-day operations of bituminous mines.

The two groups announced Saturday that they had been unable to agree on contract amendments providing for a six-day work week. Ickes on Sept. 29 had asked them to extend the current 35-hour week to meet bituminous coal needs for 1943, which he said would amount to 600-million tons. Negotiations between the operators and miners have continued since that date.

The chief issue was whether the basic Appalachian wage agreement should be changed to provide specifically for the sixth day of work. Both sides were willing to work the extra day, with miners to receive time and a one-half for that day's labor, but they disagreed on whether the added work should be required.

The miners declared they were willing to work a sixth day to aid in the war effort, but claimed "the six-day operation, from the very start, was understood to be a voluntary contribution to the war effort. . . ."

Operators, however, maintained a provision making the sixth day's work mandatory should be inserted into the amendment. They also stated that the RUMW had refused to allow persons working the extra day to be subject to existing rules and discipline.

HITS WAR LABOR POLICY

COLUMBUS—(AP)—John Owens, president of District 6, United Mine Workers of America, asserted today coal miners could not meet increased production goals under the nation's war program unless the government altered its policies towards the industry.

Proportionately more miners have entered the armed forces than from any other basic industry, creating an acute manpower shortage in the pits, Owens said as delegates representing some 30,000 Ohio and West Virginia diggers opened their annual four-day convention here.

BRIBERY TRIALS SET FOR JAN. 5

Judge, Race Official, and Bank Cashier Plead Innocent In Old Estate Case.

GREENVILLE—(U.P.)—The trials of three Ohioans, a probate court judge, a member of the state racing commission, and a bank cashier, on charges of extortion and bribery will begin Jan. 5.

Probate Court Judge Harry E. Miles of Darke county pleaded innocent in common pleas court to an indictment charging him with extortion and bribery in a case growing out of the administration of an old estate and Common Please Judge Jesse K. Brumbaugh set bond at $1,000 and fixed Jan. 5 for trial.

T. A. Billingsley, member of the state racing commission, and Joseph E. Menke, cashier of the Farmers National bank at Greenville, also pleaded innocent to a bribery indictment in the same case. Billingsley will be tried Jan. 7 and Menke Jan. 8.

The indictment which was returned last week charged that Menke and his attorney, Billingsley, applied to Judge Miles for a $10,900 fee in May, 1942, for handling the estate of Village S. Marker which has been in litigation since 1918. Menke was named administrator in 1927.

The extortion and bribery charge against Judge Miles charged he attempted to extort $1,500 from Menke and Billingsley for allowing the fee and the bribery charge against Menke and Billingsley charged they offered the judge the money "in an attempt to influence" the court.

All three dismissed the charges as ridiculous.

Up and Down THE STREET

Mansfield boys in service may hear a local singer if they happen to be in the camps where Bob Early is touring with the "Hit the Deck" Unit 57 of the USO shows. Bob recently was accepted in the unit after an audition. His unit will leave Chester, Va., today and start on a 23-weeks' tour of the country. Another Mansfield singer, Miss Kathleen MacIntosh, is one of a group of 12 girls who will entertain for a month at the Mt. Royal hotel in Montreal, Canada.

Even Christmas vacations will be "rationed" to pupils of Bellville and Butler schools as a part of the war effort. Each school will have only the holiday and New Years Day as "time off" instead of the week or more they usually enjoy. These schools, which have been having Saturday classes to pick up an extra two weeks of time in the spring, so that pupils may work on farms or otherwise help in defense endeavor, will gain another week by the holiday curtailment.

For the first time in more than 15 years, it seemed likely today, the annual Christmas party for boys of the Y. M. C. A. will not be held unless a sponsor turns up. In former years, 150 or more boys would crowd into the Y gymnasium for their holiday games, stories, treats and presents from Santa. The Phalanx fraternity, which has had charge of the affair for the past three Christmases won't be able to treat the boys this year since about 23 of their original 30 members are in the armed services.

Hubert Tappan, 597 Park avenue west, qualified for the honorary fireman scroll this morning. When central station firemen reached the Tappan home on an alarm received at 8 a. m. they found Hubert in the basement diligently playing a stream of water from a garden hose on a woodwork blaze presumably started by defective wiring. Captain L. R. Zimmerman reported the cellar full of smoke but that Tappan, grimy and fume-choked, refused to leave the scene of battle until chemical extinguishers had blanketed out the flames. Damage was slight.

ILL ONE WEEK

Roy Wittel, 37, Dies Sunday In Shelby Hospital.

SHELBY—Roy N. Wittel, 37, 19 Oak street, died Sunday in the Shelby Memorial hospital after a week's illness.

An employe of the Ohio Seamless Tube company, the deceased was a member of the Lutheran church and Eagles lodge.

He is survived by his wife, Martha; one son, Richard, at home; one daughter, Martha, of Cleveland; his father, J. A. Wittel, Shelby, and one brother, J. M. Whittel, Shelby.

OBSERVERS FORESEE LIMITS ON MEAT LATER

Delay In Printing of Coupon Books Holds Up New Consumer Programs.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—A possibility that dairy products may precede meat on the rationing list arose today as one high official asserted that OPA had never officially committed itself to a date for the meat program or listed it as the first commodity to be handled under the new "point rationing" system.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson disclosed at a press conference that his agency has "one or two more" major rationing program coming up. The new eight page, 192-coupon "point rationing" book now being printed will enable the OPA to take care of two additional programs.

An official, who declined to be quoted, asserted, however, that it would be unwise to launch two programs at the same time until the nation's housewives become familiar with the intricacies of the "point rationing" system.

He also disclosed that delays in printing the millions of coupon books, forms and other material necessary for "point rationing" will prevent distribution of the books the latter part of this month and institution of another rationing program in January.

The official said that, although the government has committed itself to meat rationing as soon as possible, OPA has never officially subscribed to the often reported mid-January inauguration date.

OPA has previously announced that meat would be distributed under a "point rationing" system but it was recalled that meat was not specified as the first such program.

Meantime, the situation in regard to dairy products has become increasingly critical, with officials proclaiming the most serious butter shortage in 10 years. WPB recently "froze" millions of pounds of butter in warehouses.

In addition, to relieve the pressure on butter fats, WPB banned production of heavy whipping cream and ordered a reduction of 20 per cent in the output of ice cream.

Despite such an advance "build up" for rationing, there is no fear in official circles of a "run" on dairy products or hoarding, since such commodities are extremely perishable.

Says Dairymen Favor Strike To Boost Milk Price

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Eighty-five per cent of the milk producers in the central Ohio area favor a "strike" unless they receive higher prices, J. R. Bridenstein, secretary-treasurer of the Central Ohio Cooperative Milk Producers association, said today.

Bridenstein said his pronouncement was based on a survey among some 2,400 farmers supplying Columbus, showing only 15 per cent were against "keeping the milk at home rather than selling it at present prices." He expressed the hope that a price advance would follow a current OPA survey in the area.

A federal-state agriculture report showed Columbus area producers received $2.95 a hundredweight for fluid milk, compared with prices ranging from $3.55 to $2.70 HWT throughout the state.

Dairymen in eight milksheds sell milk for bottling for $3 or more per hundredweight and the price is under $3 in seven other major markets.

Cincinnati, where milk is 15 cents a quart delivered, pays a high of $3.55.

Other cities where milk sells for 13 cents a quart all pay less than $3, with the exception of Sandusky where the November price was $3.15. Other 13-cent markets and prices to farmers early in December: Mansfield $2.90; Springfield $2.80; Youngstown $2.85.

The delivered price of milk in other areas paying $3 or more to farmers is 14 cents a quart.

BRITISH CHASE ROMMEL WEST FROM AGHEILA

Allies Batter Foe From Tunis To Sicily With Growing Air Strength.

Axis, Tripoli is some 500 miles southeast of Tunis, which British and American forces menace from the west.

There the Allies were said to have beaten back another German attempt over the week-end to turn their right flank by infiltrating north and south of the road junction town of Medjez El Bab, 35 miles southwest of Tunis.

The whole Axis North African supply system was kept under terrific aerial assault, and the blows extended across the mid-Mediterranean straight to Sicily.

From Libyan bases, medium bombers mauled the harbors of Palmero, Sicily, and Sousee, Tunicia, Saturday night.

American Flying Fortresses and B-25 Billy Mitchell bombers set aflame a 10-block area of the Tunis waterfront, Saturday, scoring direct hits on docks, warehouses and a suppl. ship They followed this up Sunday with an attack of even greater intensity.

A British admiralty communique reported that British submarines had sunk four more Axis supply vessels in the Mediterranean and that torpedo hits had been scored on an enemy convoy of two supply ships and three destroyers within 30 miles of Naples Full results of the attack were not observed. the communique said

The same bulletin reported that British submarines had attacked shipping in Tripolitanian anchorages damaging two supply vessels at Burat by gunfire and torpedoing ammunition barges at Ras Ali

Saturday the admiralty had reported the torpedoing of four Axis troop or supply ships and the destruction of a merchantman and an anti-submarine ship in the Mediterranean

Berlin Admits Africa Corps 'Withdraws'

BERLIN (from German broadcasts) —(AP)— The Berlin radio broadcast today that it is officially announced in Berlin that Mershal Rommel has withdrawn his forces from El Agheila to a position further westwards.'

(The daily Nazi communique as broadcast from Berlin made no mention of Rommel's retreat saying merely that in Libya lively reconnaissance and artillery activity continued).'

The high command reported that German planes in Tunisia destroyed several Allied tanks and downed 12 planes in combats over all North African battle areas. Axis naval guns were said to have destroyed three more Allied planes

Heavy new raids were reported against Allied Bone in Algeria where the high command said explosions and fires were started

23 Nazi Fighters Shot Down at Rouen

LONDON—(U P)— The final score today on the American heavy bomber raid on Rouen Saturday showed that of 23 German fighters shot down in the fiercest battle yet between Nazi and American air fighters gunners of the bombers accounted for all but four

Neither the RAF nor the American air force was active with heavy bombers Sunday night, but in daylight Sunday the RAF's fighters and bombers from its army cooperation command swept busily over northern France, the low countries and northwestern Germany.

In these attacks, the air ministry said, a number of barges tugs, locomotives and a troop train were damaged One fighter failed to return.

Russian Offensive Approaches Deadlock

BULLETIN

MOSCOW — (U P) — Russian troops have smashed a German attempt to crack the southern arm of the Soviet pincers encircling Axis forces in the Stalingrad area, and have penetrated the second enemy line of defense in the city's southern outskirts, front dispatches said today.

MOSCOW — (AP) — The double-barreled Russian offensive on the Stalingrad and central fronts appeared to be approaching a deadlock today with the Germans unable to get a sustained counter-offensive rolling, but still slowing the Red army's progress with vicious and repeated counterattacks.

Since the Russian offensive started Nov 19 on the Stalingrad front and six days later on the central front no important German progress has been reported in the effort to restore Nazi positions.

With winter conditions developing, military observers believed the chances were increasing for the Red army to deal heavy new blows before the Germans could escape their present difficulties between the Don and Volga rivers west of Stalingrad and around Rzhev.

Despite the loss of 100,000 men in their siege of Stalingrad and 94,000 more in the Stalingrad area during the Russian offensive—figures announced officially by the Russians—the Germans were able to launch "a powerful attack with considerable forces" south of the city yesterday, a communique said.

The Russians reported that this attack and three subsequent counter-attacks were thrown back with the Germans losing some 900 officers and men.

Russian troops have occupied several enemy strongholds west of Rzhev in the last four days and killed about 700 Germans, the midday communique said Only 75 prisoners were taken, but a large quantity of materiel was seized, it was reported

FEAR INCREASE IN FIRE TOLL

Authorities Believe More Bodies Wait In Ashes Where 100 Died.

lives in the Cocoanut Grove night club in Boston the night of Nov 28 In both cases, fire interrupted dancing and laughter In both panic resulted at once and writhing humanity piled up against narrow exits to die of suffocation and flames

Saturday night's party in the Knights of Columbus hostel was less sophisticated and not so well dressed as the one at Boston's Cocoanut Grove There was much less to drink, but it was no less gay.

The auditorium on the ground floor was jammed with some 600 guests mostly soldiers and sailors and their girls, for a barn dance On a platform-like stage at one end of the hall was a dance orchestra, a number of singers and dancers

An entertainer in chaps, boots, checkered shirt, and 10 gallon hat was singing "The Moonlight Trail" into the microphone and to the dancers. He was interrupted by a piercing feminine shriek, then by the cry of "Fire" which was taken up by a hundred tongues. At that instant, flames broke through the thin partition separating the auditorium from the main public hall Instantly, the whole audience stampeded in panic for the exit into the outer hall which led to the street.

Shrieking and fighting men and women had no sooner reached the exit when a wall of flames sweeping down the corridor blocked it Those in front were held by the flames but at the same time were being pushed into them by the on rush of the panic stricken from behind Fighting became a general melee but it didn't last long The flames swept in over all

The lights had failed with the first alarm and the entire building was in darkness The radio announcer was swept from his station but his microphone remained open and the invisible audience heard shrieks and screams and shouted curses and prayers and behind them the crackling of flames, until at last some 10 minutes after the first shriek the microphone went dead

One of the heroes was Michael Fielich saxophone player who was on the platform with the rest of the orchestra He flung his instrument aside picked up a chair and smashed the shutters and the sashes of the stage windows He and the orchestra leader then helped the 65 persons on the platform to crawl out

One of the outstanding acts of heroism was that of two Canadians, whose names were not publishable at this time, who escaped through a window in the front of the auditorium and went to the rear where they batted in a window and rescued 31 women a 1 10 men.

Eight men in the dormitory on the second floor jumped from windows but an unknown number were asleep and perished

The origin of the fire was unknown An official investigation was to seek the cause

Seek to Link Boston And St. Johns Fires

BOSTON —(INS)— Investigation of the Cocoanut Grove fire-panic disaster today took a dramatic and unexpected turn when investigators revealed they would seek all information on the blaze at St. John's, Newfoundland, where dancers were trapped in a manner comparable to the Boston holocaust

This came as fire department officials were carrying out an ultimatum—the first of its kind in the history of Massachusetts—to strip inflammable decorations from all places of public assembly

It is known that the FBI in Boston has never entirely eliminated sabotage in the Cocoanut Grove disaster Service men lost their lives in both fires.

HITLER SELECTS DUTCH FUEHRER

Names Anton Mussert to Serve Netherlands; New Demands on France Reported.

Hitler Dec 5 the Berlin radio said The letter was read by Pierre Laval at a press conference yesterday it was said

The Berlin radio said that at this conference Laval "outlined a big program" including new anti-Jewish measures putting France in line with the "new order'

"Laval admitted," the Berlin broadcast said, "that a lack of understanding shown by public opinion in France still is forming a wall of separation between France and Germany."

Petain's letter as quoted by the Vichy radio, assured Hitler of the French government's intention to pursue loyally on our part a policy which allows us to secure the future of France in a reorganized Europe'

The Vichy radio quoted Laval as telling his press conference 'I want Germany to win

"To save France in spite of herself, it is necessary to break all resistance without pity and with all the means available' Laval was quoted as saying France has fallen very low but however low she has fallen France is still something great German victory means as much for France as for the rest of Europe"

Hitler Demands More Slave Labor

LONDON—(U P)Adolf Hitler has invited new rebellion in occupied Europe by demanding another million workers to speed up production for Germany's faltering war machine and build new fortifications against the threat of Allied invasion, it was learned today

During the last eight weeks a half million workers were reported to have been deported from occupied countries to Germany swelling the European slave ranks to more than 8 000 000 to more than 8 000 000 Holland mobilize 250 000 Dutch for the German army and that Bulgaria Hungary and Rumania furnish troops to make up for Nazi losses in Russia and North Africa according to word reaching London

Fighting French headquarters in London reported that Hitler had ordered 100,000 French workers to the Reich within two months It was recalled that Berlin recently demanded 150,000 skilled workers but fewer than 90 000 Frenchmen responded with the result that nine out of ten skilled workers were enrolled forcibly

Norway, one of the last of the occupied countries to feel the demand for workers, has been forced to send another 100,000—one third of all its industrial workers—to Germany or to work on Norwegian fortifications An additional 200,000 previously had been employed by the Nazis in Germany and elsewhere

The WAAC training school announced Mrs Gregory had been given a discharge other than honorable' following a court martial at which three WAAC third officers (second lieutenants) formed the court Their recommendation for the discharge was approved in Washington.

BOTTLE LIQUOR SALES STOPPED

Hotels Agree To Sell It Only By-the-Drink In Rooms.

CLEVELAND—(INS)— Ohio hotels no longer will sell guests bottled liquor for consumption in hotel rooms That was the ruling today of the Ohio Hotel association after a unanimous vote by 250 convention delegates on a resolution proposed by Claude J Cannon of Dayton

Cannon said the action effective for the duration, would discourage room parties during which many bottles of liquor might be consumed He said also that the ban would help the state liquor department maintain a normal liquor supply

Guests will be urged to drink in hotel bars or have one or two drinks per person served in rooms Cannon added

CASE TESTED

Supreme Court Gets Evidence In Pendergast Conviction.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Validity of contempt of court convictions of Thomas J Pendergast former Democratic political leader of Kansas City and two others was at issue today in arguments before the supreme court

The trio was convicted in connection with Missouri's $10 000 000 fire insurance settlement The others were Robert Emmett O'Malley former Missouri superintendent of insurance, and A L McCormack, St Louis insurance agent

The justice department asserted in a brief filed before the tribunal that the contempt "consisted in fraudulently fostering' upon the federal district court at Kansas City a corrupt settlement of insurance rate litigation, procured through bribery of the Missouri superintendent of insurance'

The navy did not say whether the enemy force withdrew or continued the attempt to land reinforcements. Increased American naval and air strength in the area has prevented any Japanese troops landing on Guadalcanal since early November.

The new enemy casualties raised the total of Japanese ship losses to 53 sunk five probably sunk and 84 damaged American naval losses in that area are now 28 ships sunk

Report Million Japs Mass in Manchuria

CHUNGKING —(AP)— An official Chinese review of conditions in Manchuria said today about 1,000 000 Japanese troops now are concentrated in that region and Japanese military preparations there have been increased considerably in the last year

(The estimate of 1 000 000 Japanese troops in Manchuria has not been confirmed by other authorities and is about double earlier estimates)

The review said the Japanese had built fortifications along the southern bank of the Amur river and the western bank of the Ussuri, both of which form boundaries between Japan's puppet empire of Manchukuo and Russian Siberia

The review asserted that Chinese workers employed on Japanese military installations had been killed afterward to prevent leakage of secrets.

Rains Force Buna Fight Into Air

General MacArthur's Headquarters Australia —(U P)— Allied air forces carried the burden of the offensive against trapped Japanese forces at Buna in New Guinea today Heavy tropical rains practically stopped ground fighting

While some planes strafed and bombed the holed-up enemy garrison and its strong points in the jungle medium bombers ranged up the coast again to Salamaua, the nearest enemy base to attack supply dumps and other installations

A mixed force of Australians and Americans of Gen Douglas MacArthur's command made slight advances on the lower reaches of the trail from Soputa to Sananda

West of Gona, Australian patrols rounded up a few stragglers from that village, where 638 Japanese were killed in the final days of fighting Curtiss P-40 fighters ranged over the area, helping the patrols.

Hudson bombers made the attack on the Japanese installations around Salamaua Sunday night

MacArthur's air force has been concentrating on these nearest enemy bases which will have to be taken after the Buna drive ends if the Japanese are to be thrown off the island

CAMEL

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1942.

The girl who walks a mile to the drug store for cosmetics is quite likely to discover that she doesn't need any.

"O say, can your C," remarked the holder of an A card to a neighbor who was starting out for a pleasure drive.

Theorists paint a rosy picture of what the world will be like a hundred years from now—but most folks are more interested in what it'll be like next year.

Anniversary of the Bill of Rights

TOMORROW marks another anniversary — one that is sometimes overlooked but which should not be forgotten at this crucial stage of American and world affairs.

It was on December 15, 1791, that "the Bill of Rights"—the ten original amendments to the United States Constitution, became effective, and it is for the preservation of those "rights" that this country is now engaged in war.

Whatever "inalienable rights" may be claimed by individuals or nations, it has been demonstrated time and again that enjoyment of these rights is made possible only by an organized society that is willing and able to defend them.

Just as a community must be protected against a criminal class, so must a nation be able to protect itself against the greed, envy, hatred and lawlessness of the world's gangster nations.

Engrossed in the tasks of its own material progress, this responsibility was dangerously disregarded by the United States following the 1918 armistice and it was not until the Pearl Harbor attack a year ago that there was national awakening to the fact that even "inalienable rights" can be taken away by superior military forces.

It was Rousseau who said, "Man was born free, and everywhere he is in chains." This is now being experienced in Europe, where millions of freedom-loving people are not only robbed of "inalienable rights" but are being made to suffer cruelty and starvation at the hands of invaders.

The Axis powers, Germany and Japan, have planned a similar fate for the United States and the entire western hemisphere. The "Bill of Rights," and the entire Constitution, will become no more than "a scrap of paper" unless they are backed by sufficient military power to preserve them.

The "Bill of Rights" will bear re-reading on its anniversary date.

Bates Is Needed By the FBI

THE FBI says Meade K. Bates, Mansfield police chief now on leave, "is doing a necessary and essential work in connection with the war effort."

That seems enough to convince anyone that Bates should be permitted to stay with the FBI as long as he is needed.

The civil service rule limiting leaves of absence to one year is a sound restriction in its intended peacetime purpose of preventing overlong absence of an employe trying out a better job, but it has no justification in such a case as this—in which a police officer trained in FBI work is needed by this government agency for special duties "essential to the war effort."

If such action is necessary—to meet an apparently technical point—there seems to be no real reason why, on January 14, Bates should not be immediately granted another leave for a year, or such part of a year as he is needed by the FBI.

Quibbling about technicalities and placing municipal convenience above the requirements of war service presents an awkward situation which had best be corrected as gracefully as possible.

Textbook On Fire Prevention

A TEXTBOOK on "Fire Prevention Education," has been published by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, 85 John street, New York City. It is for use by educators in the schools, and by civic leaders as a guide in organizing fire prevention and protection.

Part One contains an introduction on fire prevention education and chapters on organizing and administering the school program; principles of instruction in fire safety; and on materials and activities for the elementary and high schools.

Part Two opens with a discussion of the importance of conserving life and material resources. Then follow chapters on organizing community fire prevention and fire protection work; selected community and organizational activities; prevention and control of farm fires; forest fire prevention and protection; public relations and community fire safety; securing public interest and co-operation through exhibits and audio-visual aids; and community education for fire prevention and protection.

Experiment In Short-Shift Jobs

PROFESSIONAL men and white-collar workers who do not use their muscles enough on their regular jobs, and some of whom are not busy now in their offices, are experimenting with half-shift work in war plants. They may work from four to eight in the evening or from eight to twelve.

Some professional men can take morning shifts, doing their own work afterward. The factory jobs seem to be good for them, and they acquire new skills and new viewpoints. Production is increased by the employment of these men, as it is by the half-time women, who work in pairs to complete whole shifts.

So far the half-shift employment is on an experimental basis, but it has interesting possibilities of development. Full-time workers in any market should be given their chance first, of course.

Overheated Washington Offices

ONE of the many queer things in Washington is the temperature in public buildings. At a time when the nation is supposed to save fuel by operating at a temperature of 65 degrees, some of those countless acres of Washington offices are said to be operating at 75 degrees or more.

Possibly that is one explanation of the lack of prompt action and clear thinking attributed, rightly or wrongly, to public employes in general. Maybe they're just dulled by the heat.

According to Anthony Eden, "Hitler is not an accident—he is a symptom"—and therefore must be given radical treatment.

It also appears that the duce is the lowest card in Italy's deck.

Don't Be a Saboteur

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

SHE'S a saboteur. She doesn't know it. She'd be furious if anyone intimated that she was one.

So would her friends. They've watched her doing Good Deeds all her life. Since girlhood, she has belonged to every Important Civic Committee, backed every benefit with her magnificent energy and enthusiasm. She has become an Authority. And yet—

She's a saboteur as surely as any imported Axis spy. Daily she betrays her country and lowers its morale as surely as if she poured emery into its motors or delivered subversive manuscripts.

No, she doesn't do it obviously. I doubt if she even does it consciously. It started so long ago that she has forgotten its beginnings. She wasn't a pretty or a popular girl—though she longed with childish desperation to be both. More than anything, she wanted power. She wanted to be a leader. And presently she found a way.

She started belittling.

And suddenly, surprisingly, she found that there were many people—weak, embittered people—who responded to the Down Beat. People who weren't strong enough to think for themselves or brave enough to meet the common challenges of life but who were immensely stimulated by criticizing other more powerful and popular people.

There were, she discovered, many more such weak and resentful people . . . lost people who could only feel powerful by criticizing those who were in power . . . than there were strong and powerful people who could go forward under their own steam.

Of course, she didn't put it into these words. She did not understand why she had become more important. But she knew she had. She found she had a source of power she has never used before.

She didn't realize it was a negative power—a destructive power. She only knew that she had found something which eliminated her own loneliness and sense of inferiority.

It was many years ago when she made the discovery. She is a woman of fifty now. She has a voice in every civic movement. It has become a suave and sophisticated voice. She is seemingly speaking for the government. But subtly and suavely, she is pouring the emery into the motors.

Gently, intimately, to the chosen few, she deplores the Administration's mistakes. Sorrowfully but forgivingly she speaks of the waste and blunders. Lifts a hinting eyebrow that indicates depths of tragic knowledge. And, with each dolorous murmer, inflates her own ego—and deflates her country's pride and power.

All because?

All because she gains by the vicious act of belittling of a power she could never gain by loyalty or faith.

No, she isn't unusual. There are thousands like her—men and women—in this country. Thousands of soured, disappointed little people who have discovered they can comfort their personal frustration by belittling someone else.

AND THEY ARE THE GREATEST MENACE WHICH THIS NATION FACES TODAY.

That does not mean that America must not be criticized. There are blunders. There is waste. There is stupidity—as there is among all people. It is not sabotage to speak of these things openly—to protest honestly against them.

BUT IT IS SABOTAGE TO WHISPER AND MUTTER AND MURMUR . . . TO UNDERMINE OUR PUBLIC MORALE. IT IS SABOTAGE TO STAB IN THE DARK, DELIVERING A SECRET WOUND TO THE LAND WHICH HAS GIVEN US THE GREATEST CHANCE MAN EVER KNEW.

If you're not great enough to understand and forgive and serve, then there's just one thing for you to do in these dire days—

Keep your mouth shut.
Don't be a saboteur.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, Dec. 14, 1922.

Mayor Brunner ordered North Adams street, between Fourth and Sixth, closed off for three hours, so that children could coast in safety.

Miss Eva Mary Shocker and Harold K. Strout were married at the bride's home, 128 West Fourth street, by Rev. F. C. Anderson.

Dr. C. M. Houston bought property at 19 East Fourth street, intending to use it as residence and dental office.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Zimmerman, Newman street.

"Forty and Eighters" enjoyed pig roast at new Legion home, Park avenue west.

Program of light entertainment featured "family night" meeting of First Methodist Brotherhood.

Charles F. Harding was elected president of the Kiwanis club.

TODAY IN HISTORY

It was on this date in 1799 that George Washington died at his home in Mt. Vernon. The first President of the United States served in that position from 1789 to 1797.

Timely Editorial

Easier To Get In.

Good news for men who want to get into the army but who have been unable to meet the physical requirements is contained in the liberalized standards just announced by the war department.

Henceforth, men with calcified tuberculosis lesions will be acceptable. So will men with 20-200 vision, men deaf in one ear (so long as the other ear is normal) and men without teeth.

Hernias still are a bar to military service, but a man who has his hernia corrected by surgery may be admitted three months later.

Another change in the rules eliminates the classification called 1-A (Suspended). This was the classification for men who would be eligible for induction upon correction of certain defects. From now on, men are either admitted or rejected. This latter is a matter of possible interest to draft board members. As far as prospective soldiers are concerned, the important thing is that under the new rules it is easier to get into the army.—Akron Beacon Journal.

Health And Diet

Health Questions Are Answered.

—By DR. CLENDENING

L. C. C.: Is there always a cough with tuberculosis? Does it cause a pain in the chest and back? Does it cause pain when breathing?

Answer: There is not always a cough in tuberculosis. Tuberculosis is almost always painless in its onset.

M. F. A.: Is it possible for anyone who has punctured his ear drum to hear in that ear again?

Answer: Yes, most people who have had a punctured ear drum were able to hear perfectly after it healed.

E. F. P.: If you have inflamation of the gallbladder is it harmful to eat butter, milk or drink alcohol?

Answer: Butter and milk are inclined to be good for gallbladder trouble and alcohol in moderate amounts will not usually do any harm.

J. H. M.: How are the body cells and nerves related?

Answer: I presume you really do not want an anatomical answer to your question. I assume that you wish to know what the relation of bodily ills is to mental states. This is very close: the mind always affects the body, whether there is organic or functional disease present, and emotional states or habits of thought can at times create symptoms which often imitate organic disease.

Everyday Poem

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

If You Meet Distress.

Do not give in to grief. Stand firm.
Call courage to your aid.
Think it and feel it, you will be
Then less and less afraid.

Do not give up to fear and dread,
But bravely face the worst
And do not hide from it and do
Not let it be rehearsed

Again and then again. Face it
And think it through, then be
Firm in decision; put away
Distress, a bright side see.

Anti-Darlan Hecklers Raise Issues Which May Prove Costly to Allies

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — There is a growing impatience in Washington, and London also, if reports are correct, with the element so vocal in both Britain and America who keep rocking the boat about peace terms, Admiral Darlan, India, and a few other ticklish problems.

These critics of our relations with Darlan did not even wait until Dakar was safely in our hands before insisting that he must be thrown overboard at once, and held up in disgrace. No one has publicly urged that Darlan be executed for his crimes, but such is the temper of some of this group, who have access to the front pages of newspapers for reasons utterly unconnected with the present war, that it would not surprise the state department at any moment if this also should be demanded.

It happens that the position of Secretary of State Cordell Hull on all this hubbub about Darlan and peace terms is well known. Hull agrees heartily that it would have been absurd and wicked to have spurned the tremendous aid which Darlan was able to bring to the side of the United Nations, especially as such spurning would not only have cost the lives of many thousands of American and British soldiers and sailors in the immediate North African campaign, but might easily have prolonged the war for years by dooming that North African campaign to disaster.

* * *

MOST of the critics of this use of Darlan began their shouting while the North African campaign still looked—from a four-thousand mile distance, like a walkover. When it developed that the fighting around Tunis and Bizerte was really serious, with air power not sufficient to retain the control of the skies which had made Rommel's earlier defeat possible, they had committed themselves so definitely that they could hardly draw back.

With regard to peace terms, the position of Cordell Hull is that it would be perfectly futile to discuss peace terms while a long, hard war is still before us, especially in the Pacific.

What the critics of the handling of Darlan by the United Nations, of the failure to give India its immediate independence, of the failure to declare that no country shall ever again rule another, and all the rest of it, never bother to explain is what might happen if all that they clamor for should be done.

* * *

LET'S take a simple illustration, about which all of us know much more than we do about India, or the East Indies, or even the merits of the Darlan case. Let's take Ireland, because nobody has said much about that island for some time now.

Suppose that the future of Ireland had to be decided, among the other peace terms. The leaders of the Irish Free State certainly believe that the "Four Freedoms" apply to them. But how do they construe it?

They construe it to give them Ulster. Now, without a moment's consideration of the merits of the case, we have a situation here which involves tremendous possibilities for trouble. The Orangemen, it is believed, would fight to the death against being ruled by the South.

The importance here is that if the Orangemen were told, positively, that a United Nations victory would mean turning them over to South Ireland, they would have no enthusiasm for a United Nations victory. In fact, they might start getting ready for their own war right away. And this sort of thing is likely to follow ANY announced peace term, anywhere in the world!

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Of all the recent shake-ups in our wartime government, it seems to me that by far the most important is the appointment of Paul V. McNutt as virtual dictator of manpower.

No one could read the 13 points of President Roosevelt's directive reorganizing the War Manpower commission, with McNutt as chairman, without realizing that it could well be that McNutt controls the destinies of more of us than any other single man in the United States.

First, it should be understood that McNutt has no power to draft labor. That will take additional legislation. But through his controls of hiring (through the now vitally important U. S. Employment agency) and of Selective Service, his power might well amount to just that.

However, it doesn't require speculation to see just how important to every one of us McNutt is to be.

* * *

USING only figures that McNutt himself has given out recently, the scope of his job becomes clear.

Before the end of next year, about one-half of the total population of the United States, and I do mean between 60 and 70 million persons, will be applying ourselves in one way or another to the war effort, or will be dependent on those who are. And that has nothing to do with volunteer workers who are giving extra-curricular hours to civilian defense tasks.

A year ago, there were approximately 7,000,000 persons directly or indirectly employed in war work. Today, there are close to 18,000,000. In a year from now there will be at least 2,000,000 more.

Because the armed forces will siphon off around four or five million (and accidents, deaths, etc., will take more) about five million new workers have to be found in the next 12 months. About 2,000,000 of these will be women, to bring the amazing total of women in war industries to somewhere around 6,000,000. About a million more farm workers will have to be found (although not necessarily on a 12-month basis).

* * *

SKILLED workers will have to be trained. Old persons and children will have to be worked into the picture on such part-time schedules as they are able to stand. Hundreds of now complicated tasks calling for highly skilled workers will have to be broken up into simple operations that can be learned in a short time.

Labor hoarders and labor pirates will have to be ferreted out and their practices stopped. The few remaining prejudices against women workers and the sectional prejudices against Negro workers will have to be broken down.

Since all war workers from now on will be hired by the U. S. Employment services, its offices will have to be strengthened and manned by capable persons fully informed of all the problems in hand.

Selective Service will have to be revamped considerably with far more power in issuing directives in the hands of the national organization and far less in the heretofore practically autonomous local boards.

As Suspected.

Man About Manhattan

Obedience Demanded

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I know a blind boy with a Seeing-eye dog and for several years they have been a familiar sight in our corner of the town. The other day the boy was haled into court on a charge of beating his dog brutally and unmercifully on a street corner. This is what happened:

The discipline imposed on Seeing-eye dogs is absolute. If they are unwilling or unable to accept it, they are valueless. One of the things they are taught is never, under any circumstances, to notice other dogs.

Just what primordial instinct caused this dog to so far forget her training as to lunge at a hostile canine I am unable to say, but on this occasion she did, suddenly and unexpectedly, at a yappy wirehair, and the force of the assault was enough to throw the boy into a street alive with speeding traffic.

* * *

THE boy clung to the strap that held the dog. He dragged her to him and began to scream at her and cuff her about the head and the body with his hands. He called her names, and he beat her again.

Naturally a crowd appeared. One woman screamed and another woman began to call him names. The incident was promptly reported to the police and the boy was sent for. There were many witnesses who reiterated the complaint, and the police asked the boy to explain himself. This is what he said:

* * *

I LOVE this dog. She is the best friend I have. Without her I would not be able to move. She eats with me. She sleeps with me. She shares all my secrets.

"But I must ask you to remember that my life is at stake every time I step out on the street with her. She pulled me into the street and it was just luck that one or both of us were not killed or struck by an automobile. That was the first time she has ever done this and it was imperative that I make her understand she must never, under any circumstances, do it again. The only way I could do this was to turn on her and hurt her in a way that she would never forget. I had to do it. It's my life. What else could I have done?"

It is a matter of record that at this no answer was forthcoming.

The witnesses just looked at each other, or away, out of the window.

The court said, "That's all. Case dismissed."

The boy said, "Thank you."

The dog reached up and raked a warm tongue across the boy's hand.

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

Christmas.

The word "Christmas" would hardly be recognizable in its early forms.

Witness for example, Kesmas, Krystmasse, Christemes—and last but not least, the old English combination from which we have the present-day term directly.

This was Cristes maesse and it meant "Christ's Festival."

The old form became "Christmas," but the sense has remained the same.

A Farmer's Diary

A Three-Fold Plan

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I BELIEVE farmers are managin' their part in this war with a lot more sense than we did the last one," an old farmer told me. "Last time, I was one of those who bought another farm and doubled my acreage, thinkin' I'd make out twice as well with twice as much land."

"And you lost."

"Yep—just like a lot o' others. This time, by golly, I'm holdin' tight to what I've got, and makin' it better, but I'm not makin' any new debts. Fact is, Molly and I paid off the last of the mortgage last week, and now we don't owe anybody. It's a good feelin'."

"Wouldn't it be a good time to enlarge a man's farming operations? Prices are good, and the government needs all the food we can produce to run the war. Land isn't so high, either."

He shook his head. "Not for me. I'm too old to tackle any more'n I'm doin' and my two boys have got jobs away. It's better to run a little farm right than a big one wrong. I'm buyin' war bonds to take care of replacing tools that wear out, as soon as I can get the replacements. I'm buying war bonds to remodel the kitchen for Molly and put in that new kind of heatin' system she's set her heart on. I'm buyin' war bonds to help lick the Japs and Hitler and bring my grandson back from 'over there.' But I was foolish the other time and the whole family suffered from it. Now I'm goin' to keep my shirt on. Looks like if all of us use the peak incomes we're gettin' now to level off the low times that may be ahead, there'll be fewer low times.

"A farmer has to be his own boss, that way. He owns his stock and equipment, and keeps up his home, too. Factory men work for a lot of investors, and don't pay for the tools they operate. They don't have to gamble their own common sense against whatever might destroy their working capital.

"These war bonds are about the best security for the future a man can get, I guess. They'll act just like that dam does along the Clearkfork—hold back the buying flood until the country needs it, and then let loose a little at a time and keep the whole valley healthy and growin' instead of washed out. Ain't that so?

"There's just three things I aim to do, for the duration. Work hard on the farm, clean up my old debts and keep new ones down to the least amount that'll stock my business; and put everything else into WAR BONDS. That way, I figger, I'm lookin' out for myself and the country, too."
